Caduceus '73

REACHING OUT . . .

Reach out for life . . .
For if it passes you by you have nothing left. Life can hold all the sorrows, beauty, and love to come . . . J. Brown

WE DEDICATE . . .

"A quiet, calm, soft-spoken guy." That is, until he gets on the basketball court. Then Mr. Piercy gets slightly excitable and a little emotional.

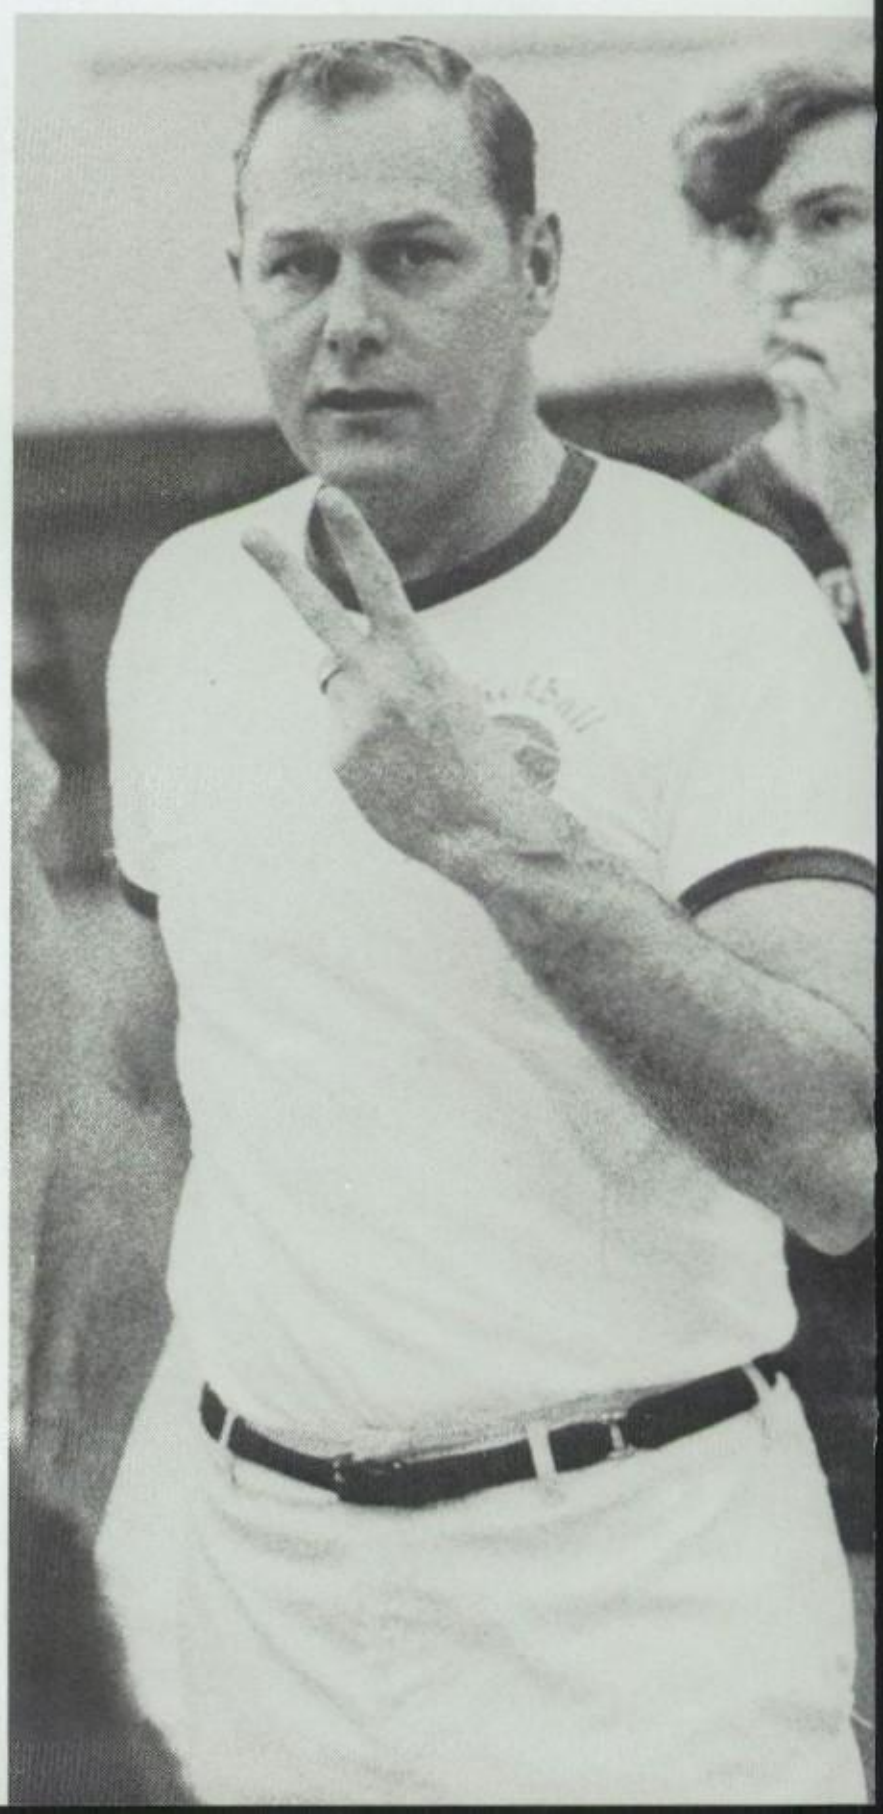
Besides coaching basketball, he teaches typing and Boys' P. E.

Mr. Piercy graduated from Chico Senior High in 1952. Back then he was shy. But this didn't keep him from being a good student and active in sports. Good student? He was, except for a slight problem with Spanish. He had a teacher who liked to tease. She also must have been very loyal to her fellow Spanish teachers. To spare them her traumatic experience with Ken Piercy's accent and vocabulary, she told him she would give him a C if he promised never to take Spanish again.

Mr. Piercy was on the basketball and track teams in both high school and college. He held the record for the high jump at Chico State until a few years ago.

You might ask Mr. Piercy what he was doing at the top of a cherry tree at the Plant Gardens one night long ago. When a guard arrived at the scene of the crime, all of Mr. Piercy's friends had managed to get away, but Mr. Piercy's famous high jump had failed to clear the tree. However, all was not lost. Mr. Piercy blushes the prettiest pink, and he blended in so well with the cherries he wasn't even seen.

It is with great appreciation and admiration, Mr. Piercy, that we dedicate this 1973 Caduceus to you.



We Dedicate . . .

Mrs. Copeland is a very energetic and outspoken person. She is dedicated to her work and enjoys teaching. At one time she was president of the School Board and has been active in many activities.

Besides teaching English, Mrs. Copeland advises both the Caduceus and Red & Gold staffs. She often stays up until 3:00 a.m. to help us meet our deadlines.

Mrs. Copeland always wants to know what is going on around her, and misses practically nothing, so we hope that somehow this gets past her and she will be greatly surprised when she opens her 1973 Caduceus.

District Officials Guide Chico High School

Mr. Robert Aisthorpe

Dr. H. Lawson Smith, superintendent, listens to Mrs. Dorothy Ramon present her proposed Spanish trip to board.

Mr. Louis G. Chrysler, Jr.

Mr. William Isham

Mr. Robert Matson, president

Mr. T. Burton Quiggle

And Presiding Over Student Government . . .

Mr. Miller sits down and looks over activities for the month.

Mrs. Priel hard at work.

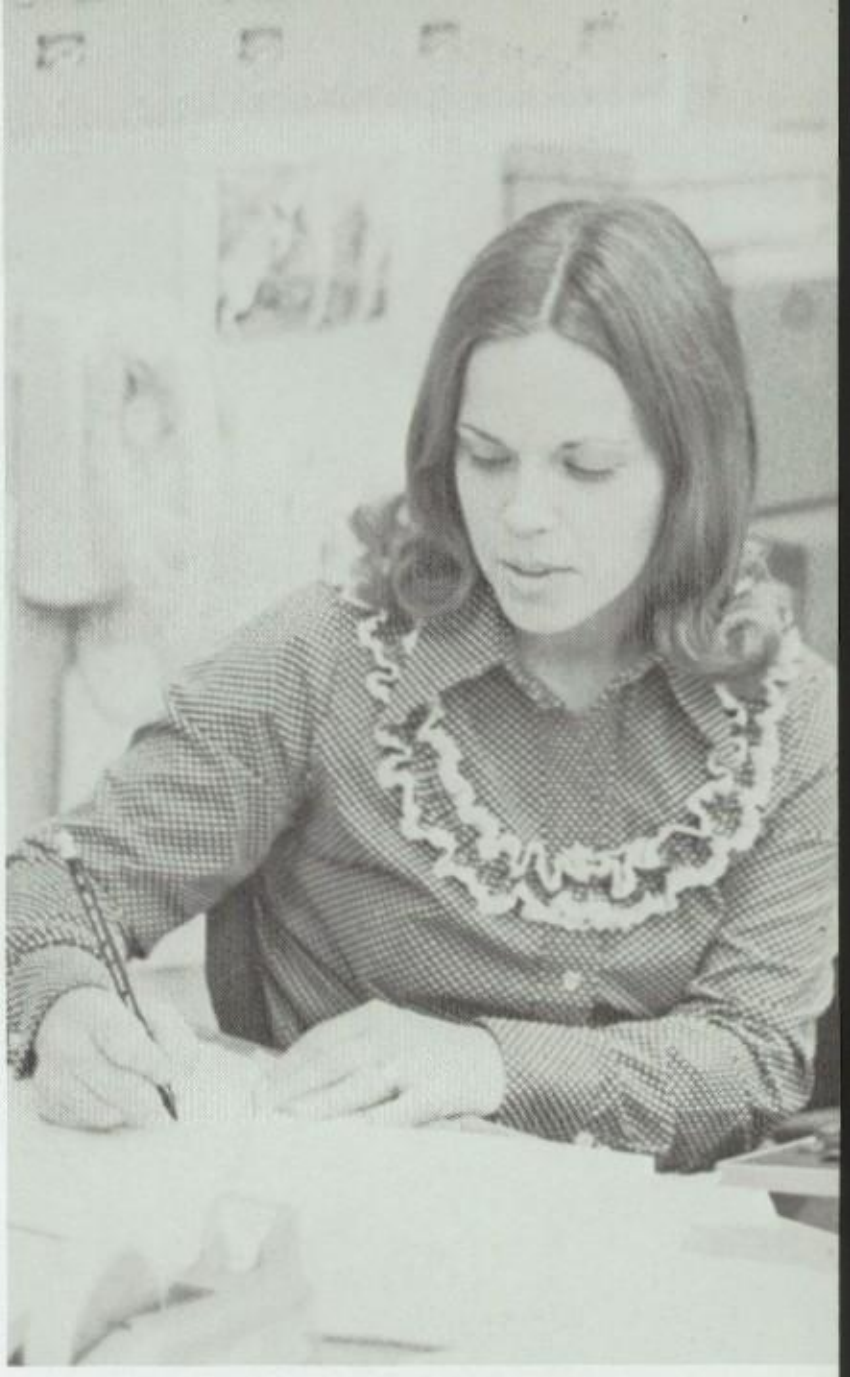
Mrs. Priel doesn't notice Mr. Miller goofing off.

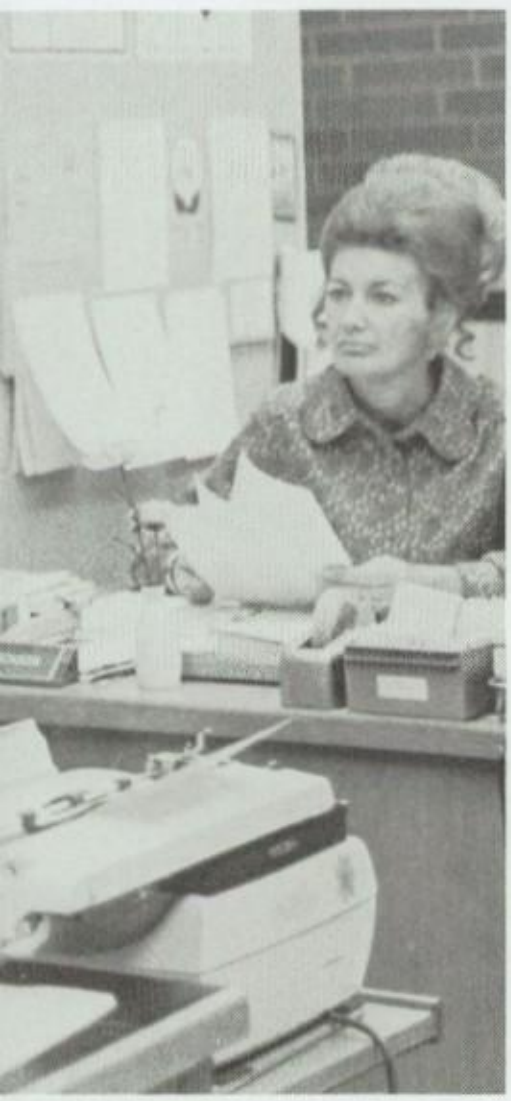
"Good Morning,

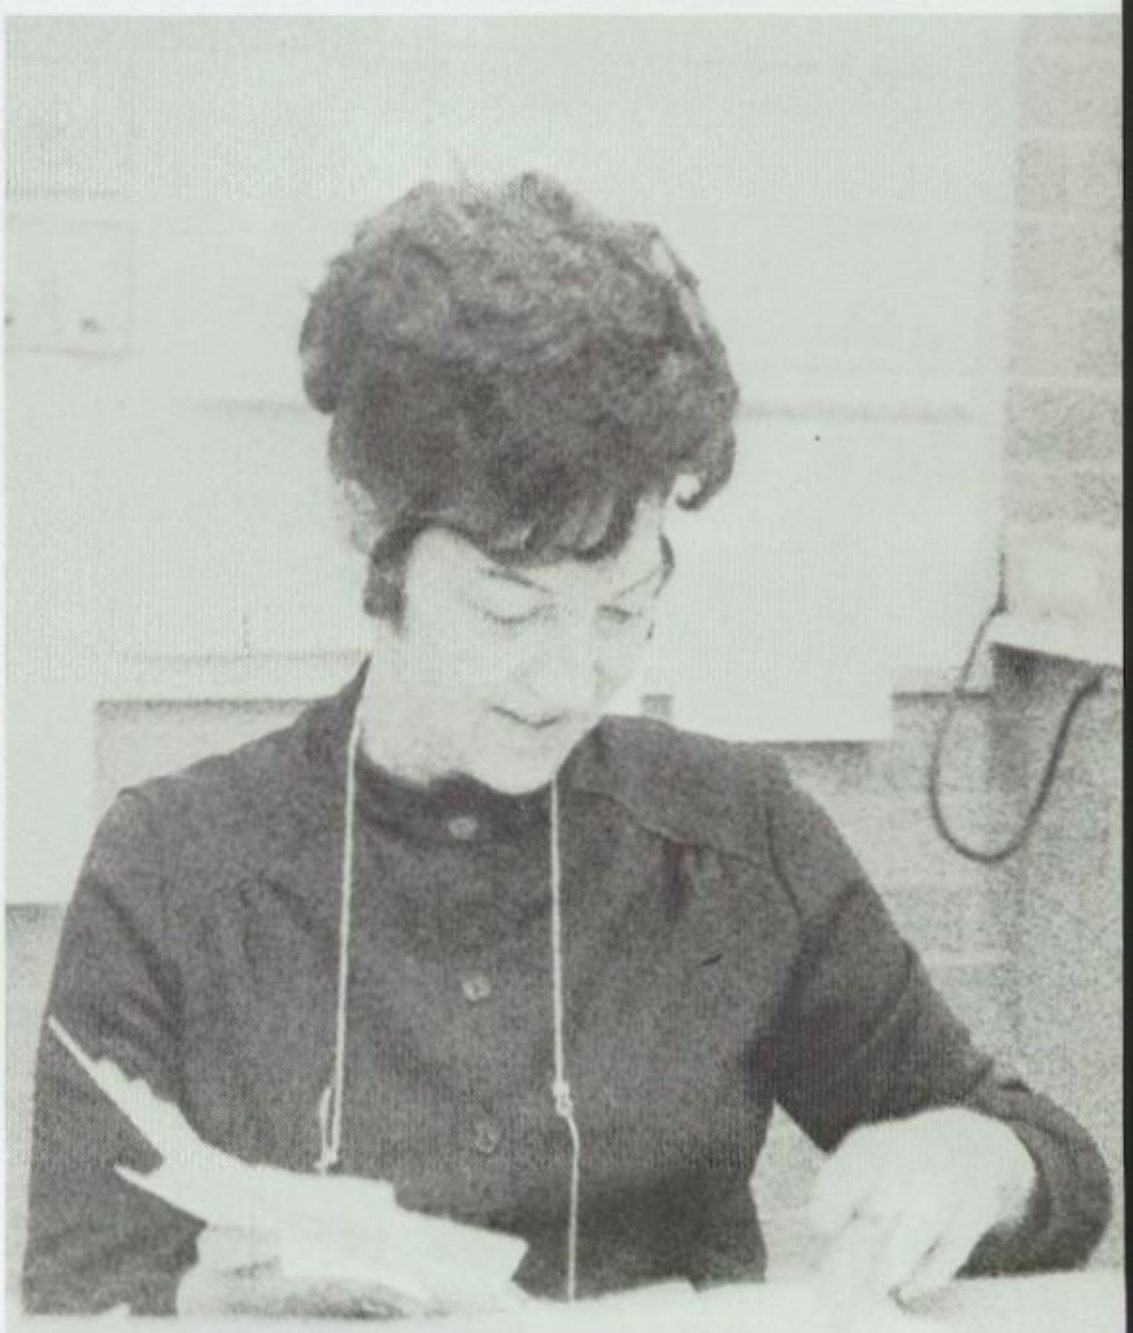
Through thick and thin,
They'll never give in.
Even when you frown!
What's the use?
(You'll never win!)

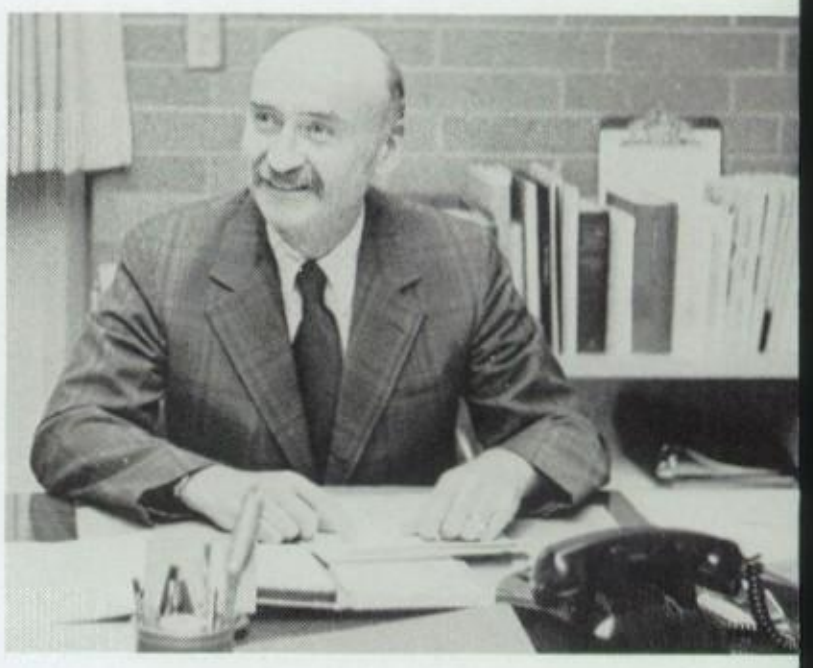
Clockwise from right: Mrs. Frances Eitel, Mrs. Nancy Crane, Mrs. Marilynn Murphy, Mrs. Barbara Sackett & Mrs. Clarisse Erickson, Mrs. Frances Linge.

Chico Senior High. . ."









CHS Leaders Guide Students Toward Tomorrow

Mr. Howard Snyder, principal, and Mr. Charles Alexander, vice-principal, are the top administrators at CSHS. Both serve as leaders of the faculty and the student-body, being responsible for schedules, school rule enforcement and general representation of the school.

Cooks and Custodians

These are the people who keep CSHS running effectively, cooking and cleaning for the students' benefit. Many of these people have been here for a number of years. Neither their efficiency nor enthusiasm have diminished with the years.

Senior Lunch Bunch

Out on Lincoln
Or down at AC
Having a smoke
Or something to eat.

Where are the seniors
During noon time?
Getting together
A prank of some kind.

In the library
Using their brain
Figuring a way
To stop the rain.

In Lincoln Hall
Just having a snack
Or a 50¢ special-
From a brown paper sack.

Wherever it is
The seniors may be
They're all looking forward
To being free.

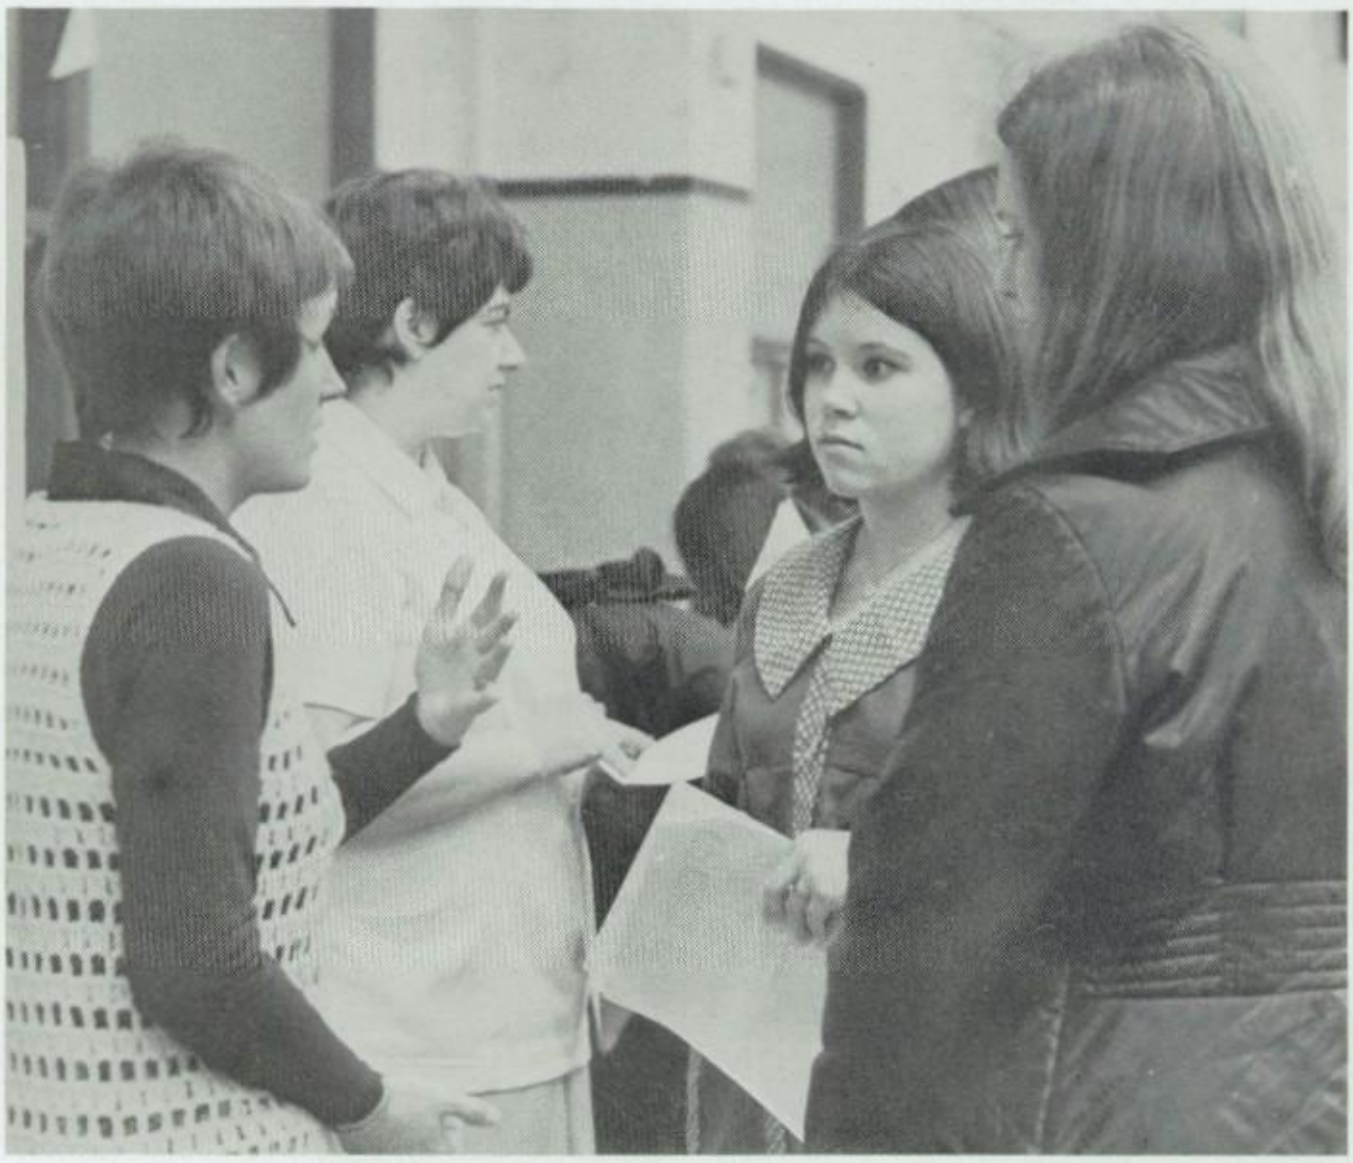
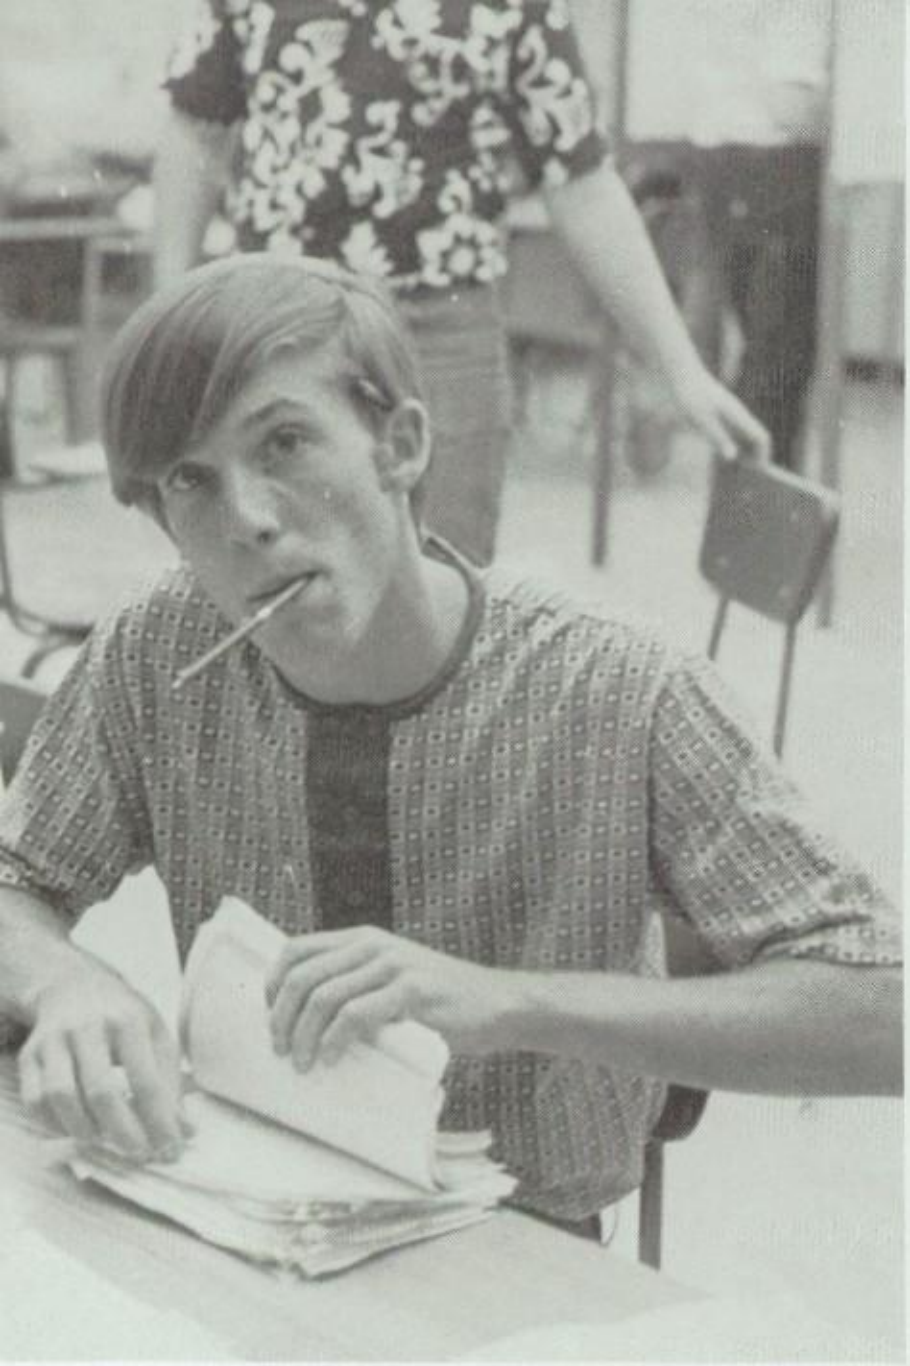
Karrie Bowen - Block "C" Candidate - escorted by Jerry Wimmer.

Activities Strike Students Imagination



Judy Strong "gets involved" at career fair.

Mr. Yerman gets "aped out" at a rally.



Dan Boone is very puzzled over mock election results.

Career Fair had a lot to offer concerned students.

A girl in disguise— you've got to be kidding!

Song and Yell Leaders: Sara Growden, Zandy Keyser, Krista Landrum, Karen Swartz, Laurel Curtis, Jean Stoner, Nanette Coulter, Sue Bernadett and Terese Kosterman.

Sara laughs as Zandy gets out of step.

Jean Stoner and Krista Landrum clap up a storm.

Cheerleaders Boost Spirit

Panther Mascot Stella Flores.

Why do girls want to run for cheerleader? It costs a lot of money, it takes hours of practice, people at games don't like to yell, your team could be a losing one; then why? Karen Swartz says, "Just because you want to!"

New for the 1973-74 year will be four Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. They will be chosen by a panel of 25 people, including 1972-73 and 1973-74 Varsity Cheerleaders. Hopefully, the JV Cheerleaders will take some of the work off the Varsity Cheerleaders and bring a few more people to JV games.

Karen also says the most rewarding part of being a cheerleader is the good feeling when you can get people to yell.

CLUBS

Clubs For All Interests

Chico High's outstanding Future Farmers of America.

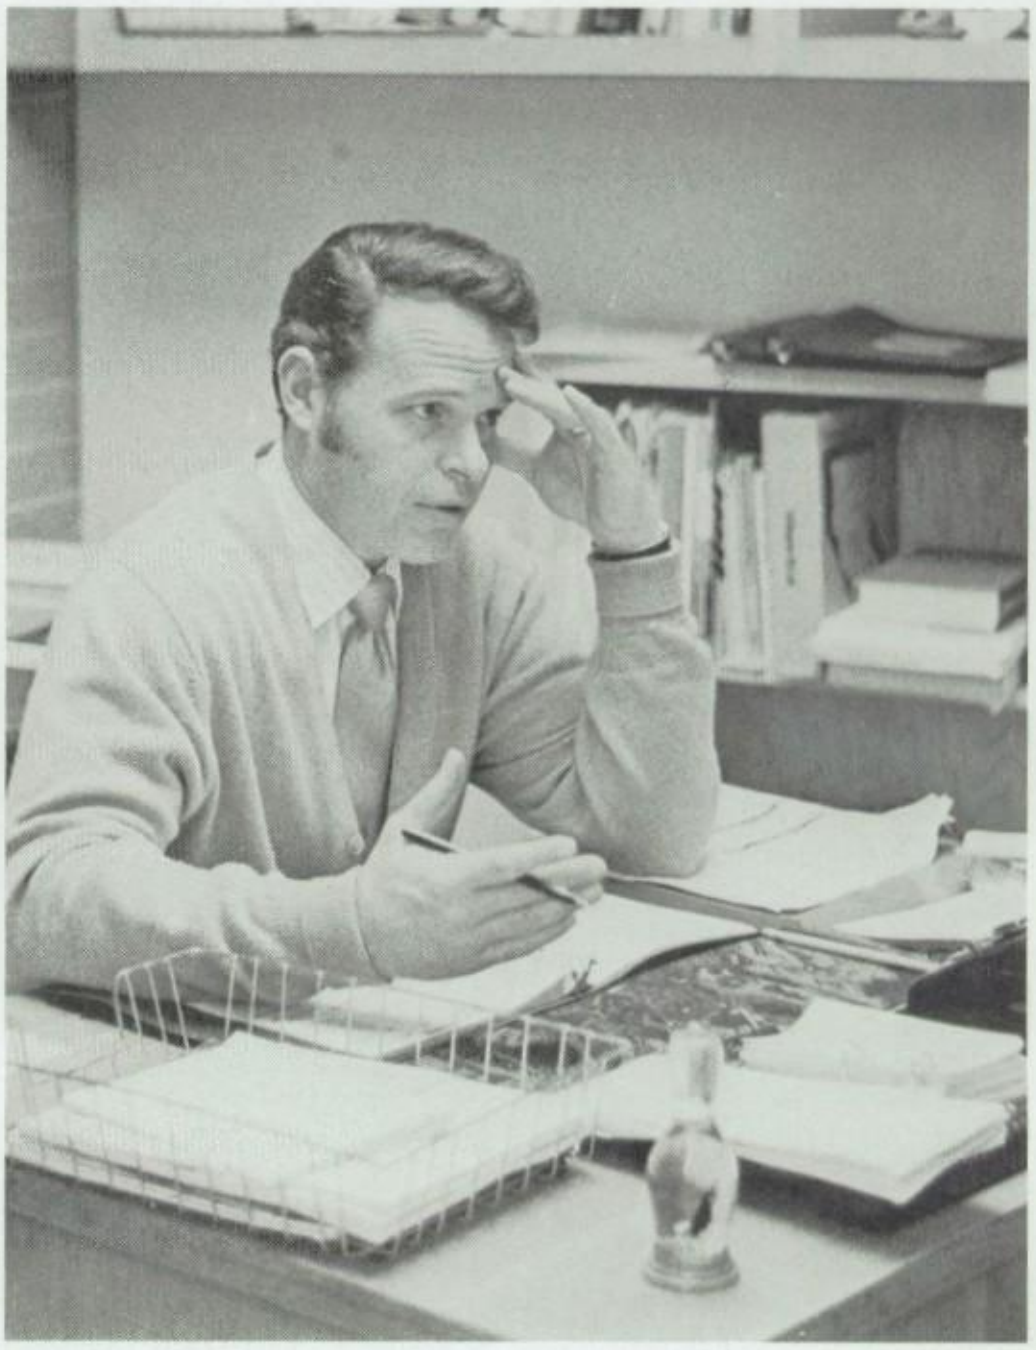
Mrs. Simic smiles as another student enters her office.

Mr. Dixon, with another Excedrin headache.



Mrs. Prentice gives a smile of relief when she sees it's only a photographer.

Music Department Strives For Berlin

The music department was honored to be invited to Berlin, Germany, for the First Annual International Youth Music Festival. Many fund raising activities were carried out, including raking leaves, performing concerts, and selling candy to earn approximately 100,000 dollars for the price of the trip for 170 students. In addition to the work of raising money for the trip, all of the students were active during the Christmas season with numerous performances of the Messiah. It was much pain and fun, all striving for Berlin.

Sounds good so far.

Choir and Orchestra perform Handel's Messiah.

Mr. Duarte comments to the school board, "We'll make it to Berlin."

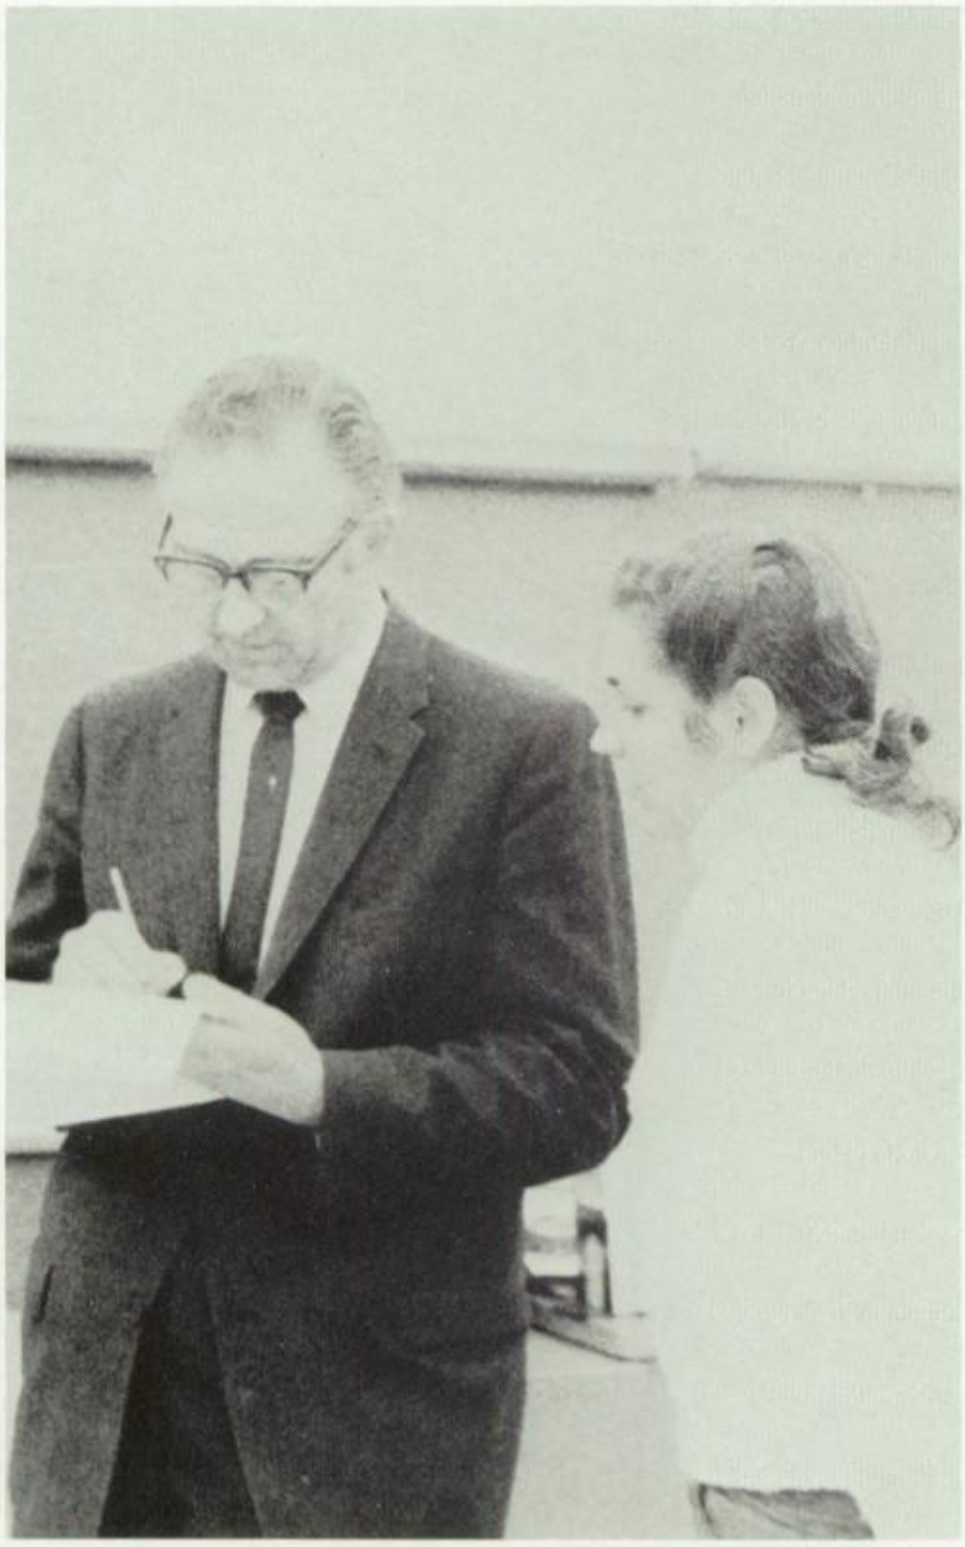
Mr. King and Mr. Sinatra share a secret.

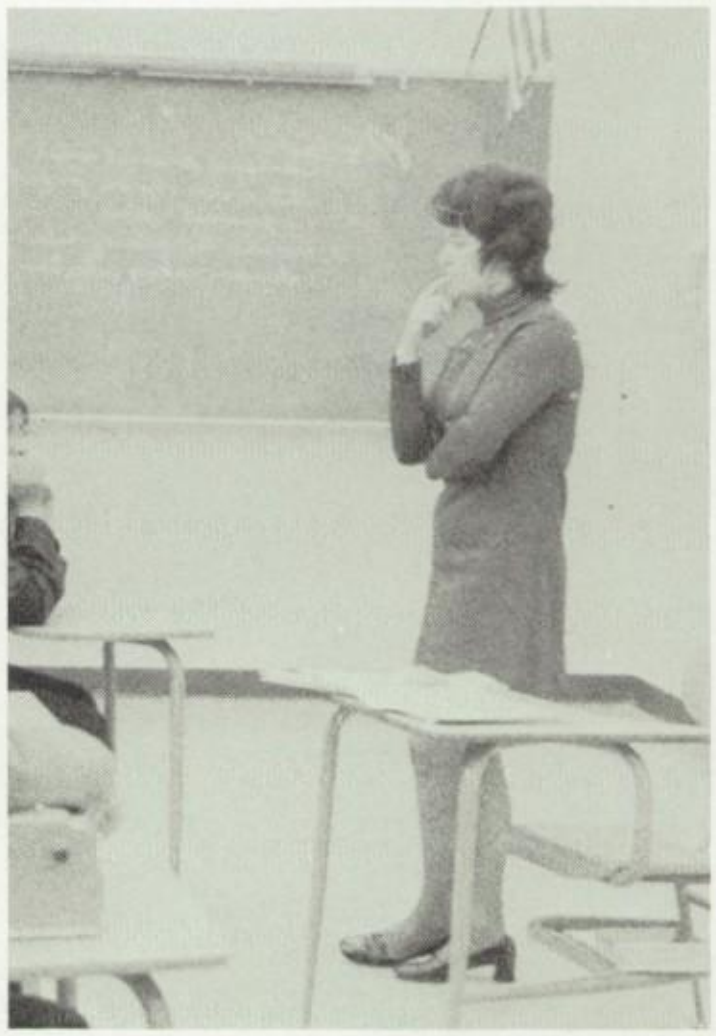
"What's your excuse this time?" asks Mrs. Wismer.

Students do research in Resource Center.

New Ideas In English Inspire Thought

"No, Darlene, I'm not kidding!"

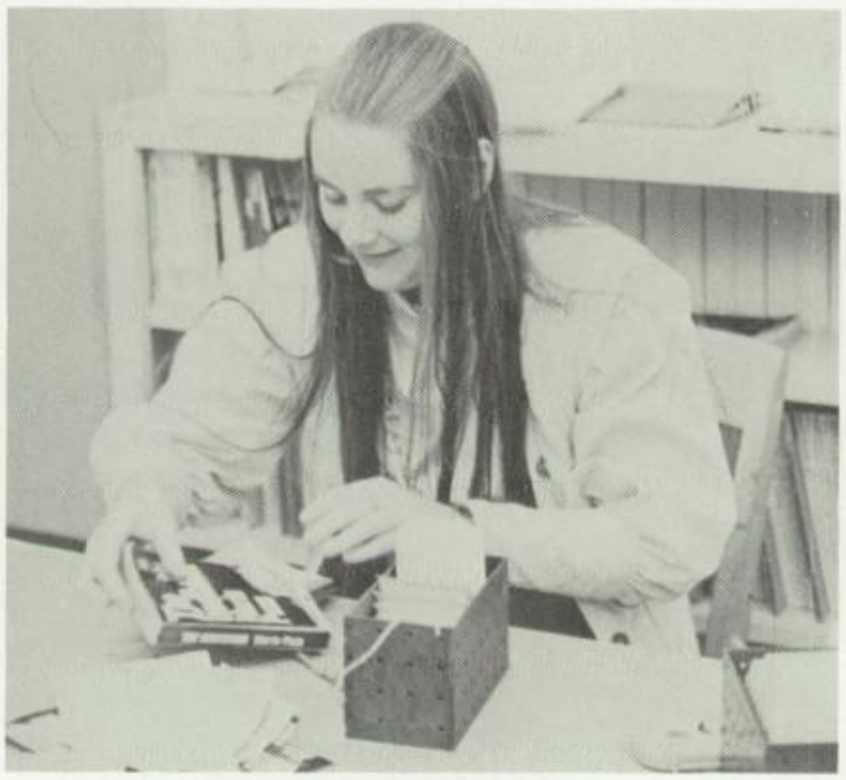




Mrs. Williams pauses before answering a question.

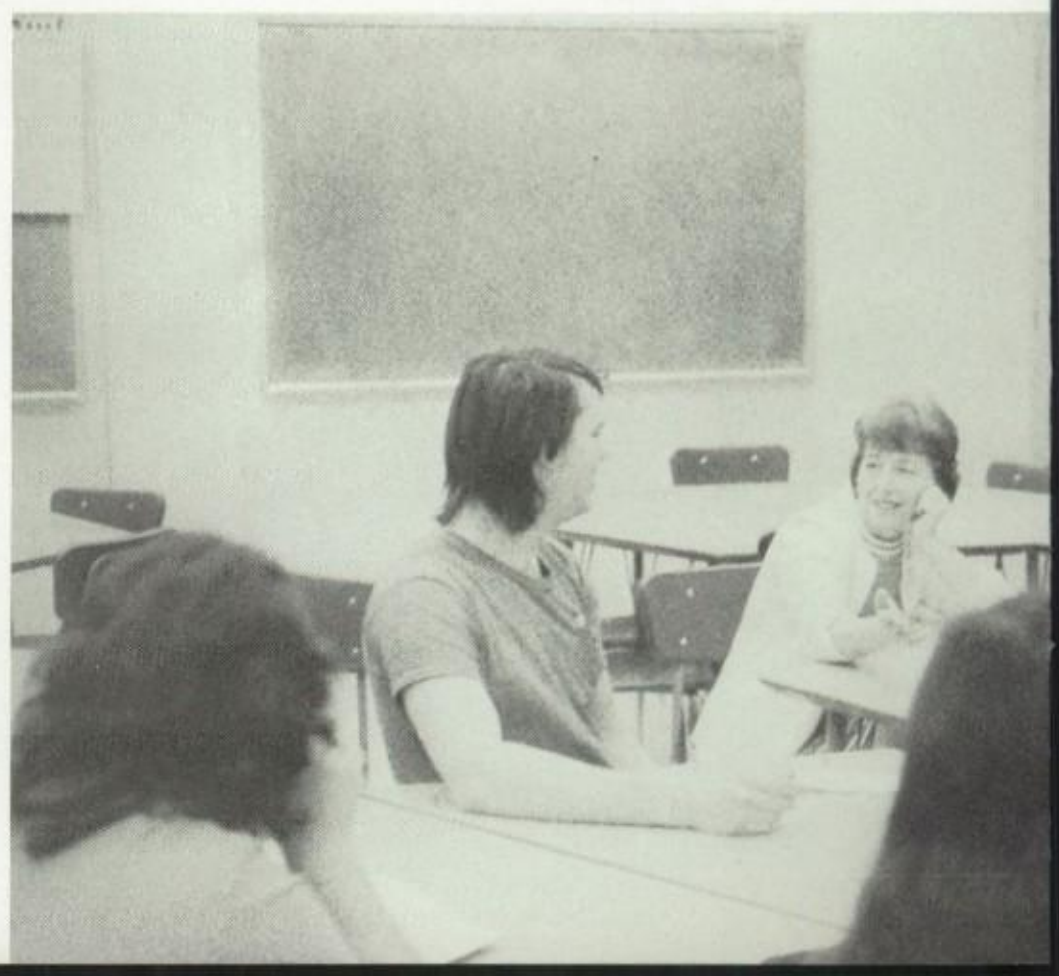
Julie Terrano watches Mr. Long making ALL THOSE CORRECTIONS on her paper.

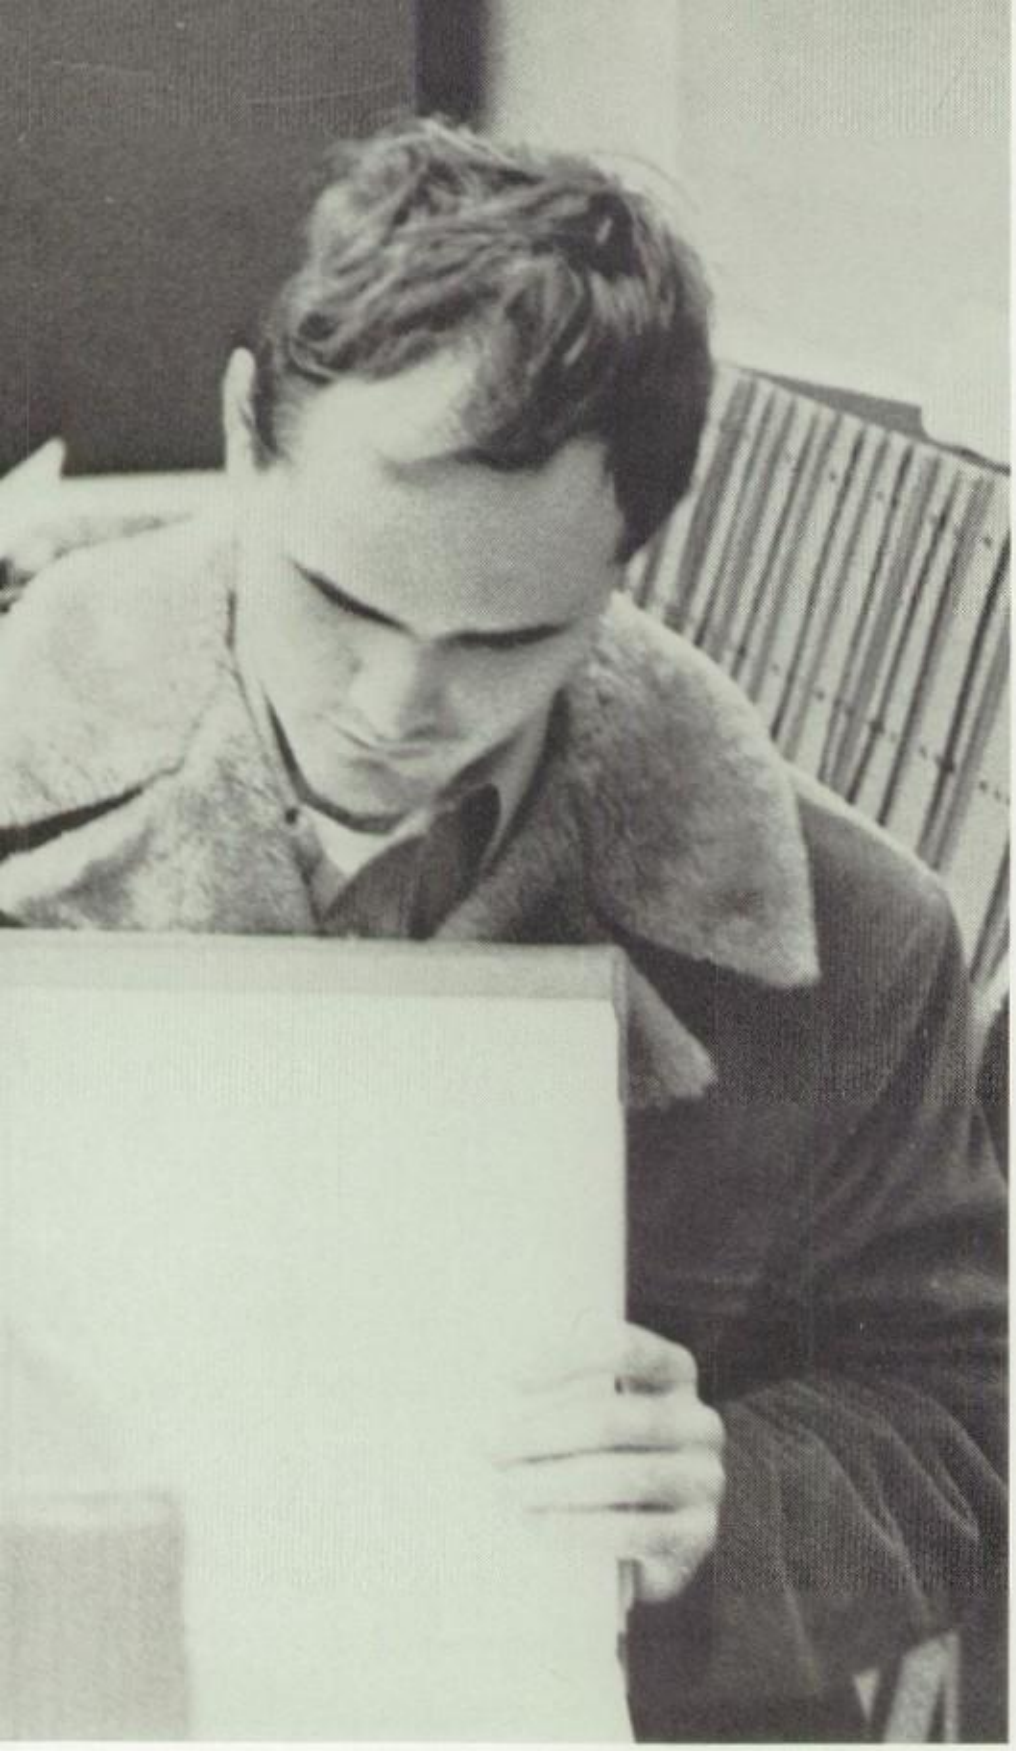
Mrs. Copeland watches one of her classes with a smile.



Miss Watts checks a book back into the Resource Center.

Judy Winn finds the Resource Center a quiet place to get her work done.

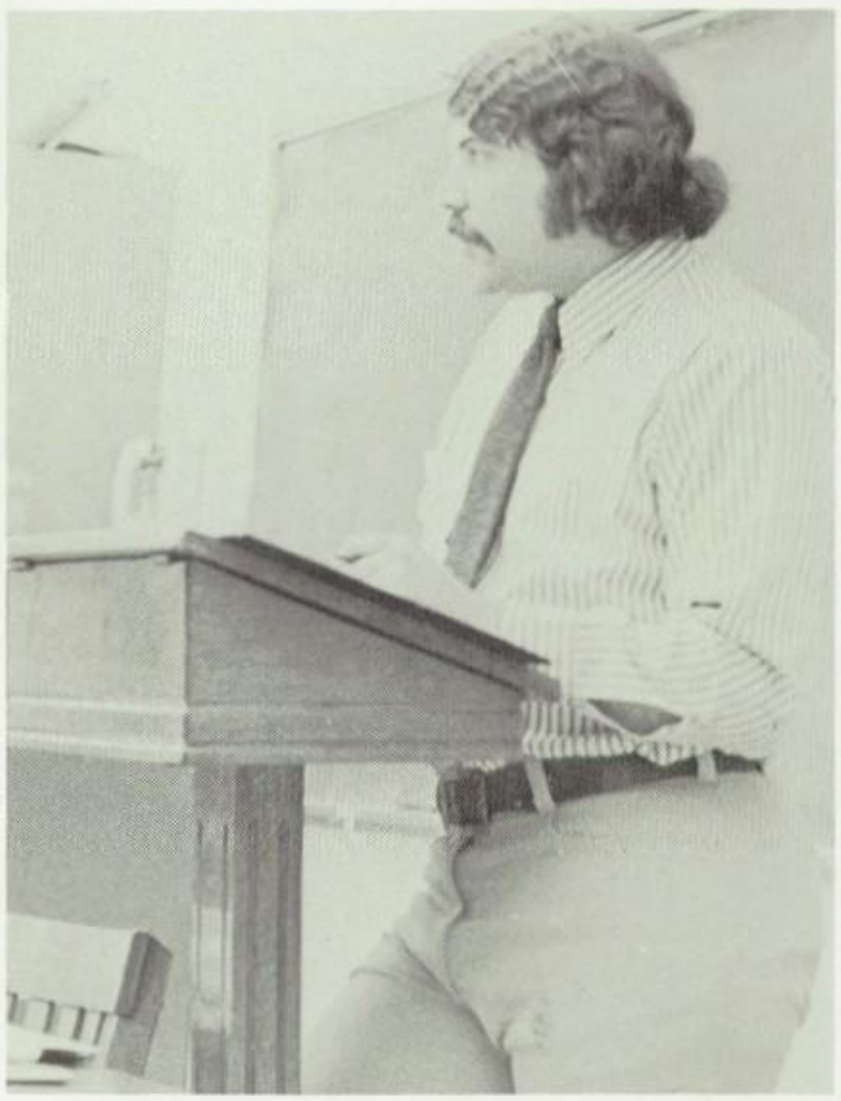




Terror, Horror, and Gore, quickly changed to Tales of Terror and Suspense, was a creation of Mr. Charles Sinatra and was added to the Junior/Senior Elective English Program this year. Along with it was Thru the Mind's Eye 2, a continuation of Thru the Mind's Eye 1. In the Sophomore English program, Decision Making, a class to help sophomores determine their values and objectives, and a Language Unit which emphasized basic grammar, usage, and history of the English language, were added.

The key to success in English is for the student to take a variety of English classes and teachers. According to Mrs. Pat Wismer, each English class teaches essentially the same required skills. Therefore the student can still take the course that interests him and get the instruction he needs to prepare for college.

Jim Blacksten's home base - the Resource Center.



Mrs. Lundin makes a point to one of her English classes.

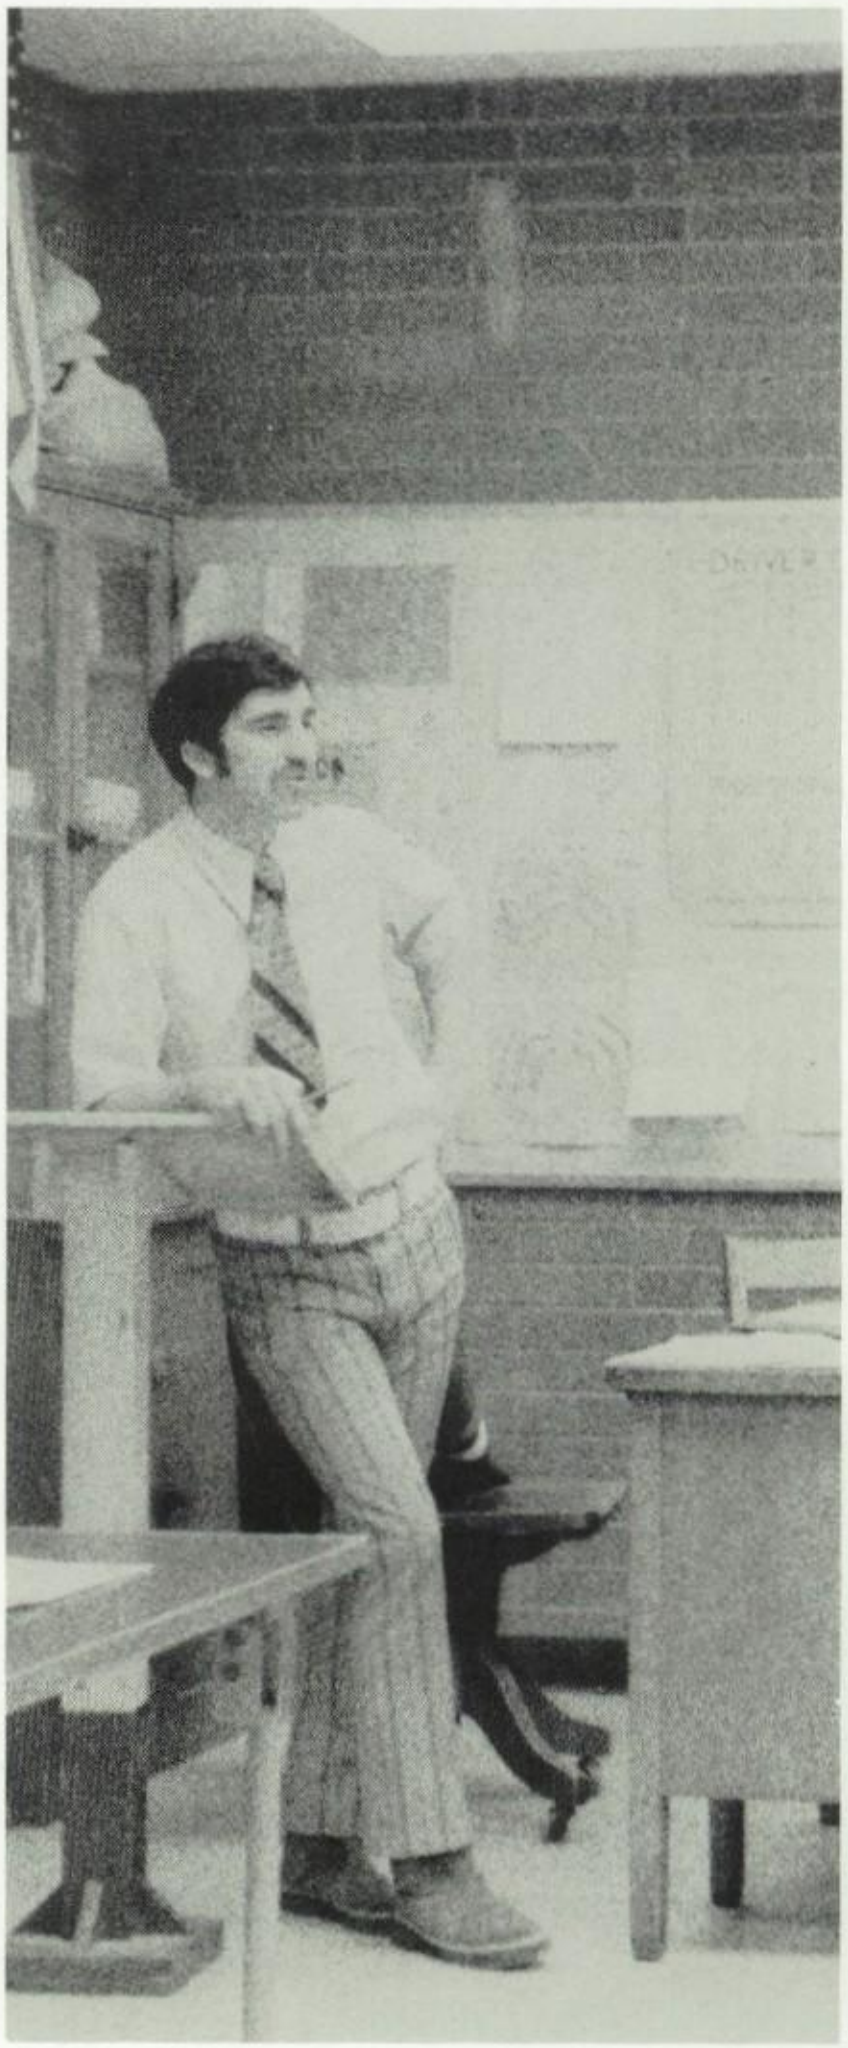
Driver's Education

Mr. Ronneberg looks as if he's had a good day.

Driver's Education and Training are classes designed to teach students the positive attitude toward driving. This class teaches the driver to respect himself and to "look out for the other guy."

Instructors are Mr. Evraets, Mr. Main, Mr. Ronneberg, Mr. Monlux and Mr. Ross.

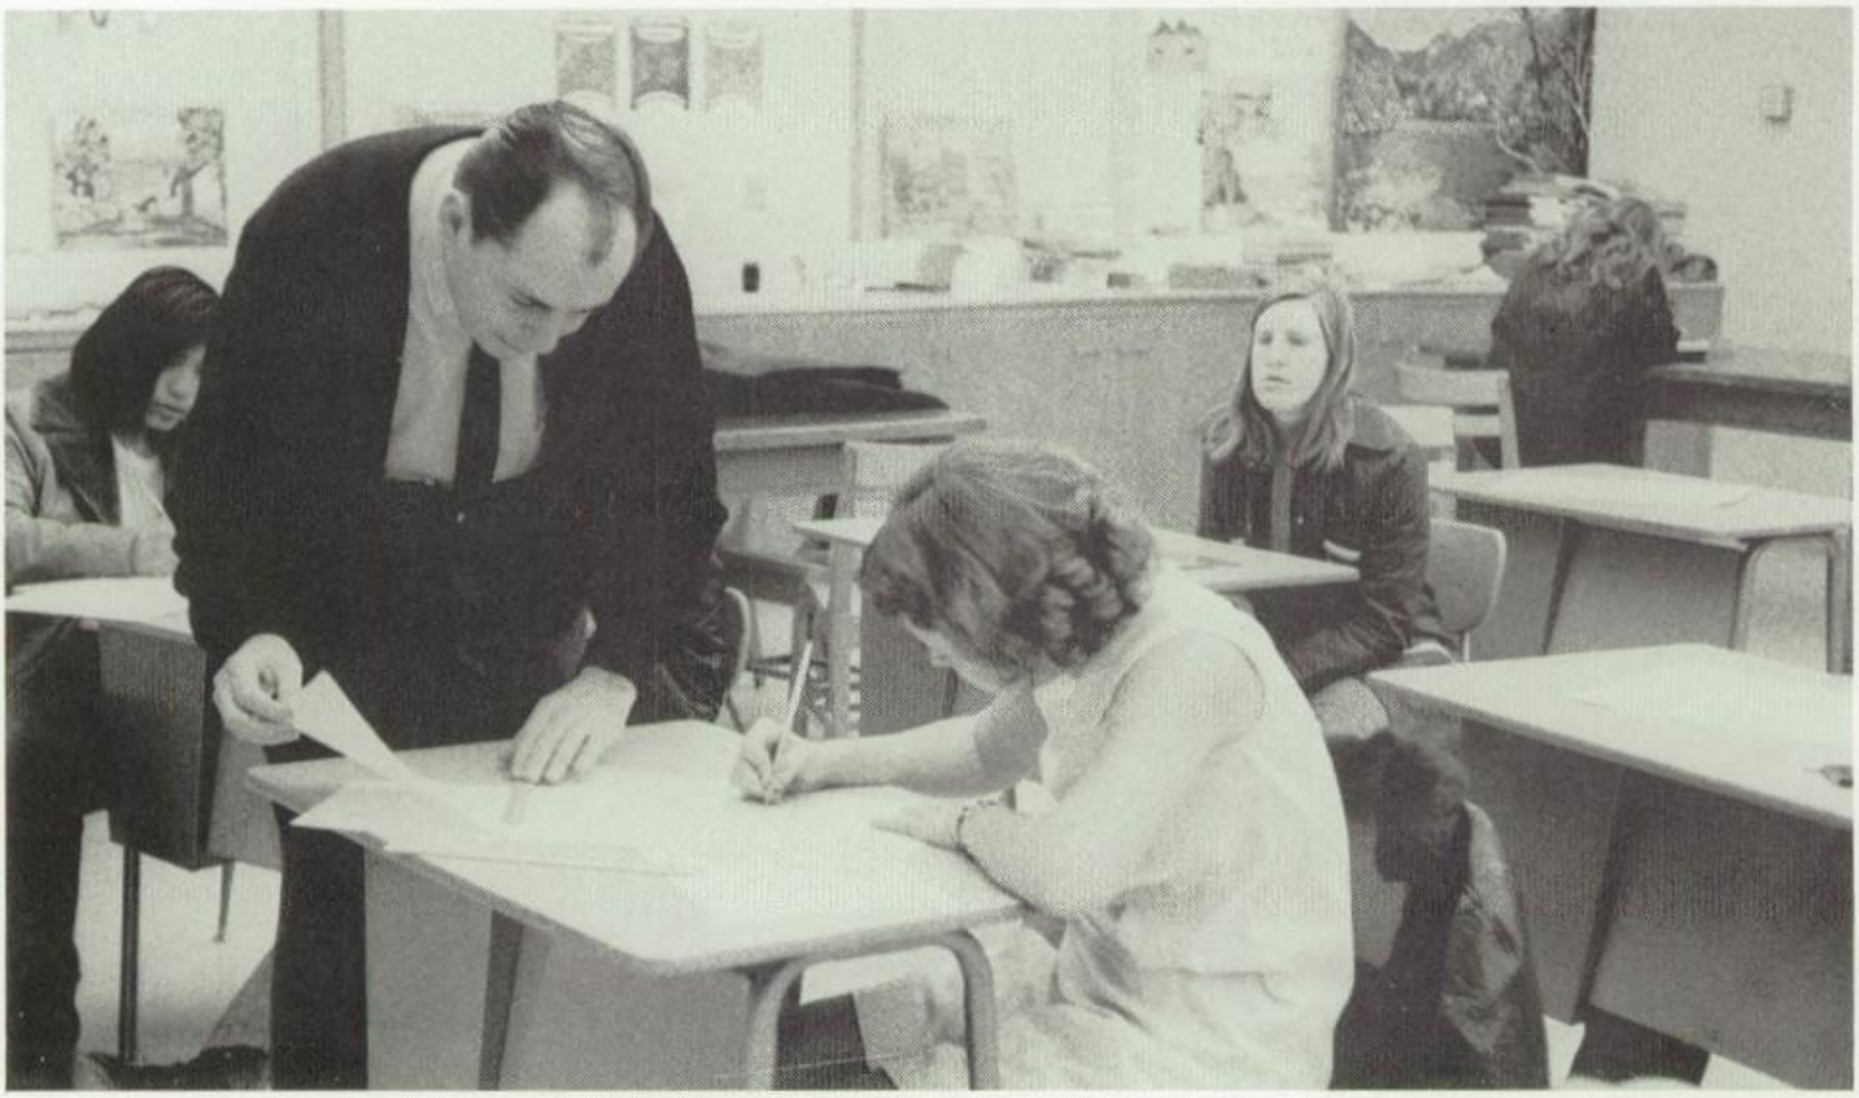
Could it be that Mr. Main thinks this may be dangerous?



"No, you stop at the RED light," says Mr. Evraets.

Special Education

The Special Education class at Chico Senior High provides an abundance of patience, understanding and information for its students. The students are fortunate to have the guidance of Mr. Talbot, who has been with the Special Education program since 1960.



Creative Arts Often Shows Expression And Feeling

Miss Haines wonders why she had to put up with the whole thing.

"Shall I hit it or eat it?" Sylvia Worden wonders.

Kathy is wondering why Aleta is playing shuffleboard with her leg instead of her cue.

The main objective of the Girls' P.E. program is to introduce a variety of activities to the students.

Through the year students are allowed to choose some of the activities that they feel they would enjoy participating in. Activities offered this year are tennis, fencing, body mechanics, and golf. Some of the group sports offered are hockey, basketball, softball, and volleyball.

In the picture on the next page, Hastings, played by Mike Plymesser, is talking with Miss Hardcastle (Kendall Wilson) and Young Marlow (Vic Vaccaro).

Woodshop Building A Better Way of Life

As the guys in Wood Shop build a better way of life they start putting the pieces together to fit. They are building projects that will be entered for competition in the Silver Dollar Fair this year. Some of the projects will move on to Sacramento for final competition. Some of the projects being built are gun cabinets, china cabinets, hydro planes, and sand boats.

Instructor Mr. Holt was asked if he liked Chico High better than P.V., being that is where he came from two years ago. He answered us "yes, a 100% better. It's just like night and day."

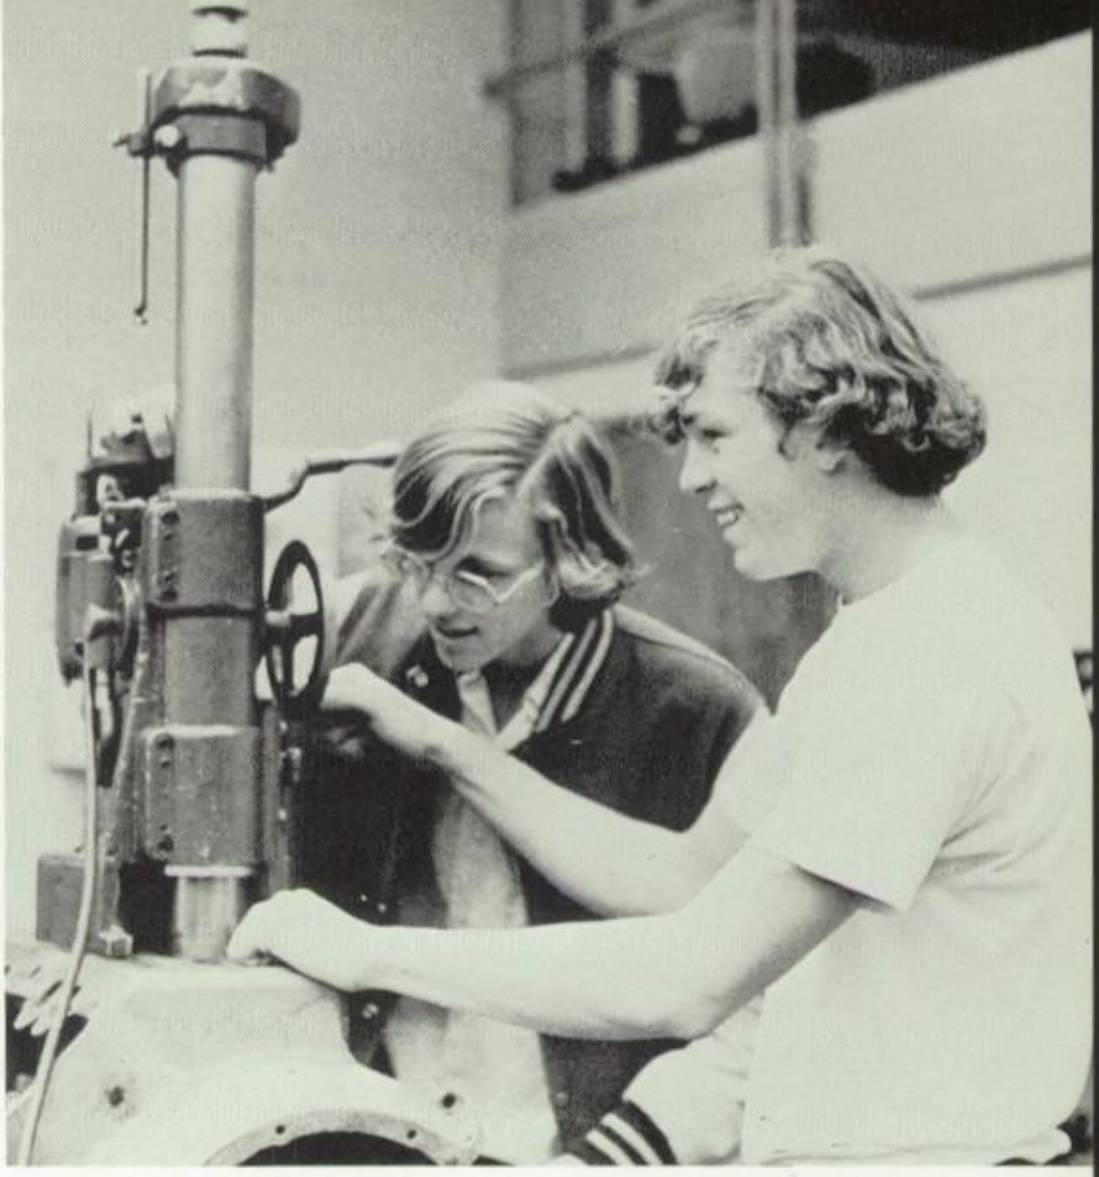
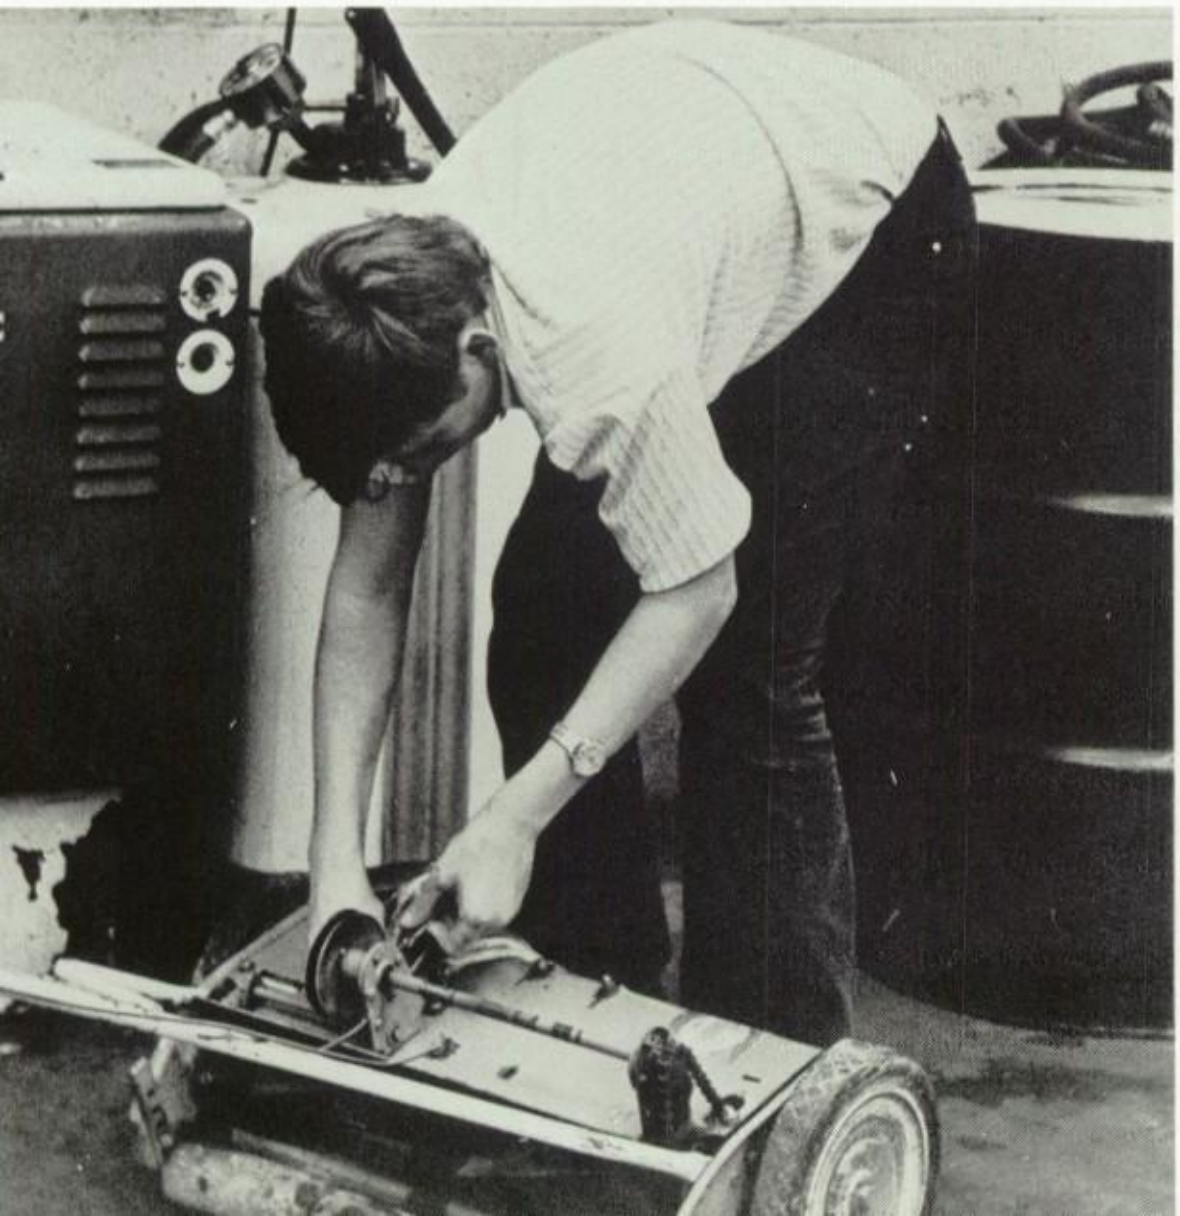
Auto Shop Construct

Ag Mechanics teaches its students how to drive and operate heavy equipment and machinery. The class learns how to drive a bulldozer, motor grader, and tractor. The students are also required to build and operate a project of their choice. For students who aren't college-bound, the knowledge of how to operate these kinds of machinery is a very workable skill.

This year Auto Mechanics is very involved in building an off-road vehicle. This project is financed by VICA. The advanced Auto Mechanics class is rebuilding engines for fair display. The second year class is learning how to operate the equipment. The beginning class is learning the basics to Auto Mechanics.



Bob and Tom tinker with their toy.



Ag Department Cultivates And Advances

Cheryl Shelton tends to her term project.

This year the Agriculture Department offered many and varied classes to the students at Chico Senior High. These classes include Plant and Soil, Animal Science, Botany, Landscaping and three levels of Forestry. The students seem to like Forestry since there are three full classes. The highest level, Forestry 3, includes interesting things like going to Gridley and Sacramento to help with the Fowl and Water officials.

Mr. Gilbert's Forestry Class discusses their favorite topic—trees!!

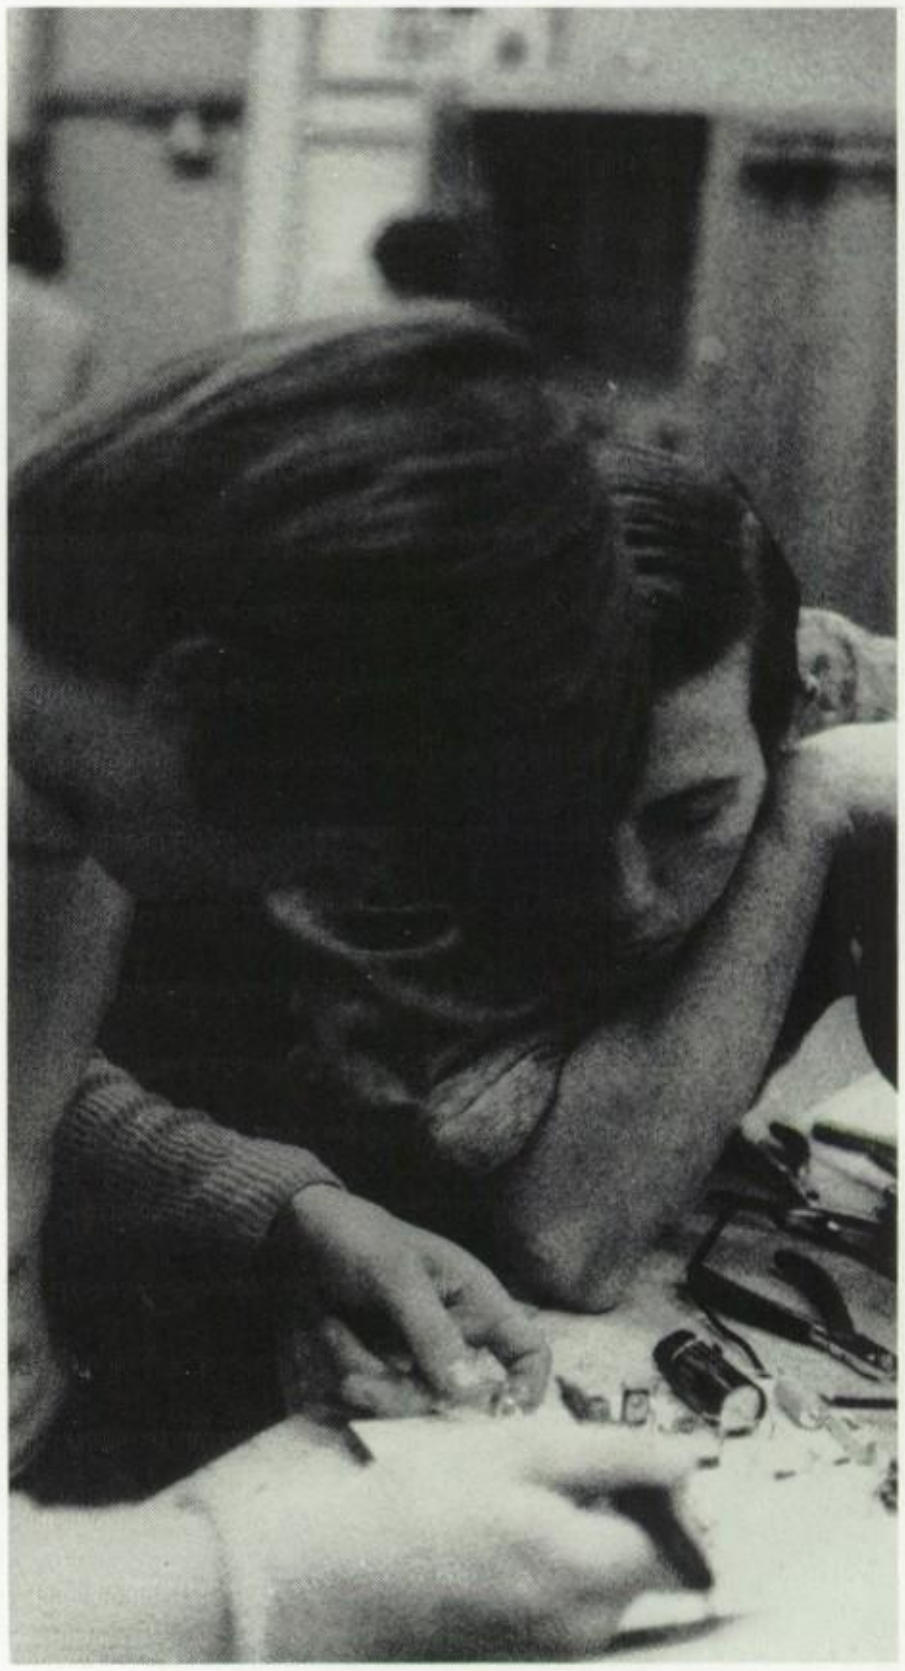
Students Orbit with Electronic Radio-Communicators

Roy Stokes adjusts a wire.

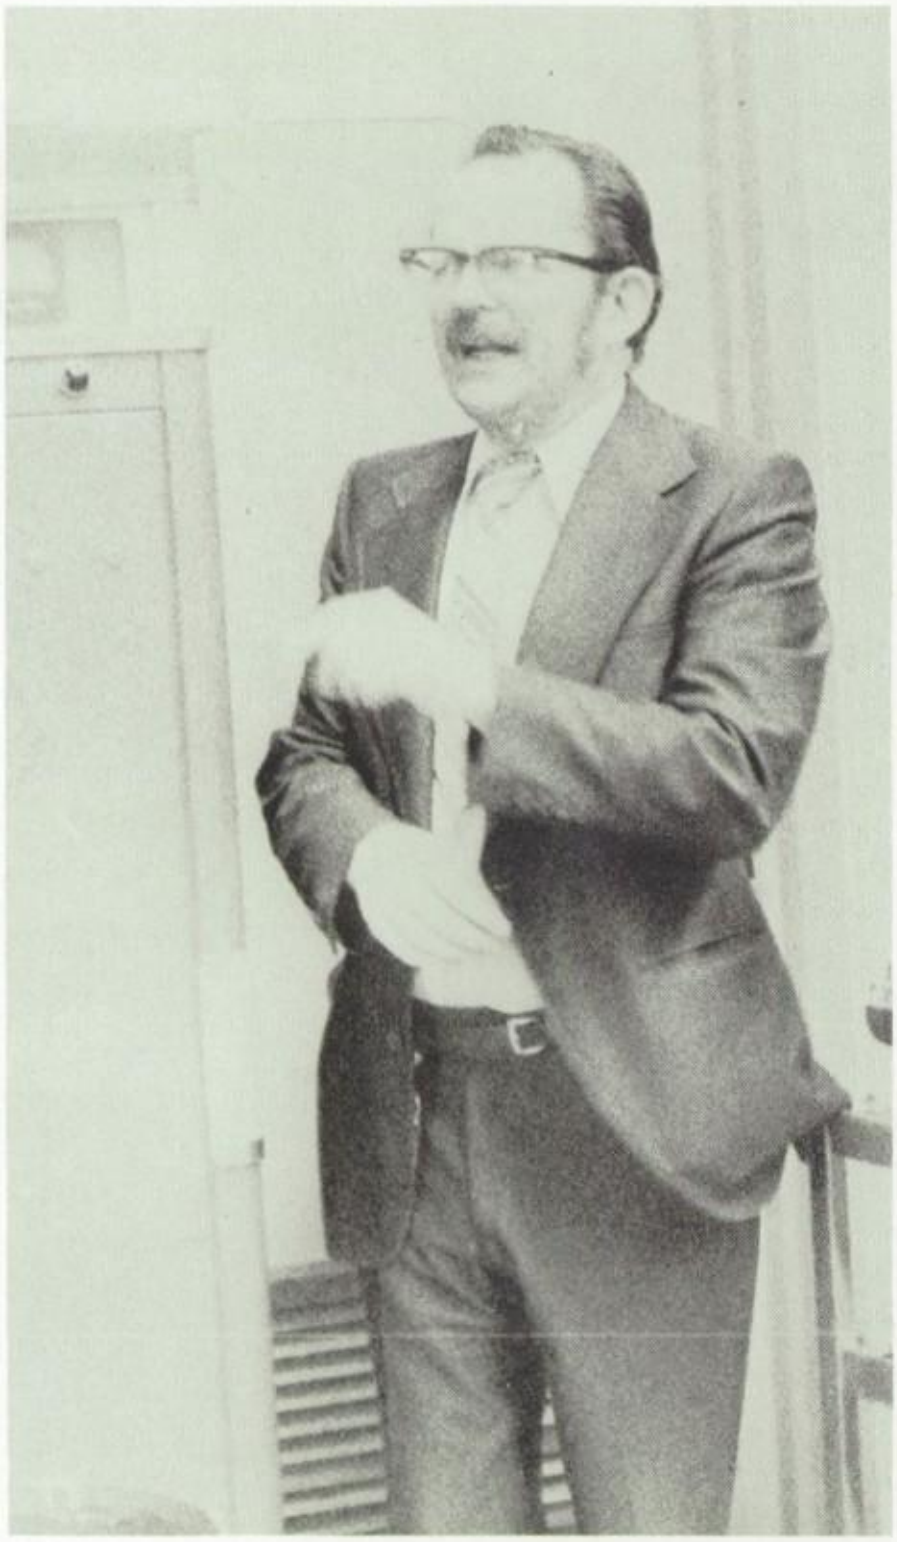
John and Greg find this class a very shocking experience.

CSHS electronics class has geared itself to space communications and solid state communications equipment. The class is developing an on-campus radio, KCHS, which will be operated by Chico High students. The station will cover sports, play music and announce local and school news, and will be located in Lincoln Hall.

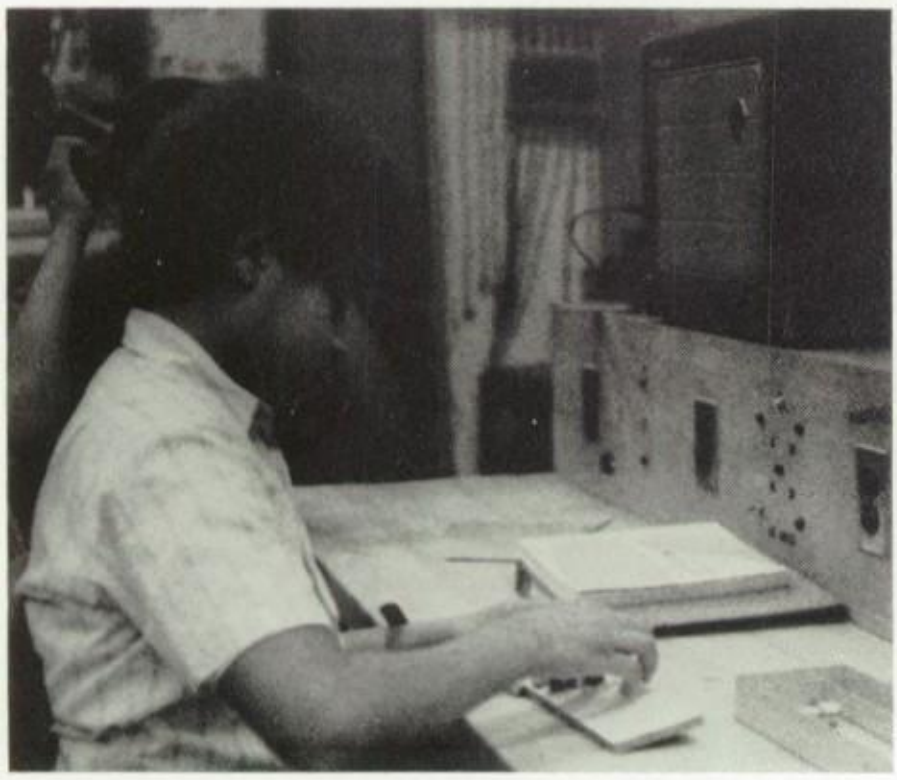
Other class activities include the development of a satellite communication system which will be able to communicate with a satellite orbiting in space.



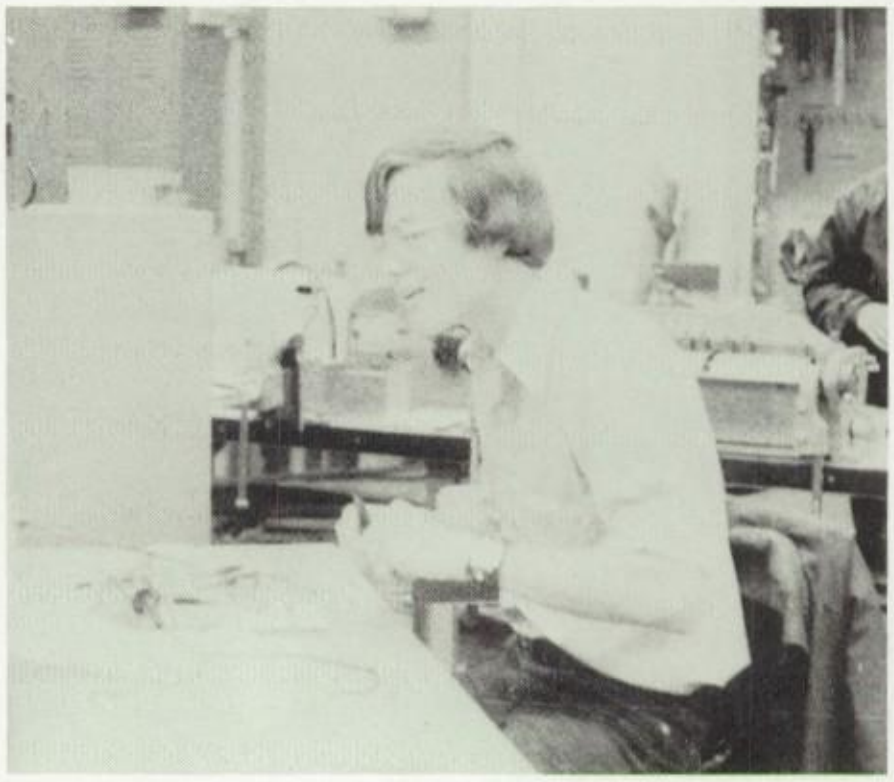
Mark and Kevin work out a knotty problem.



Mr. Pope stresses a point.

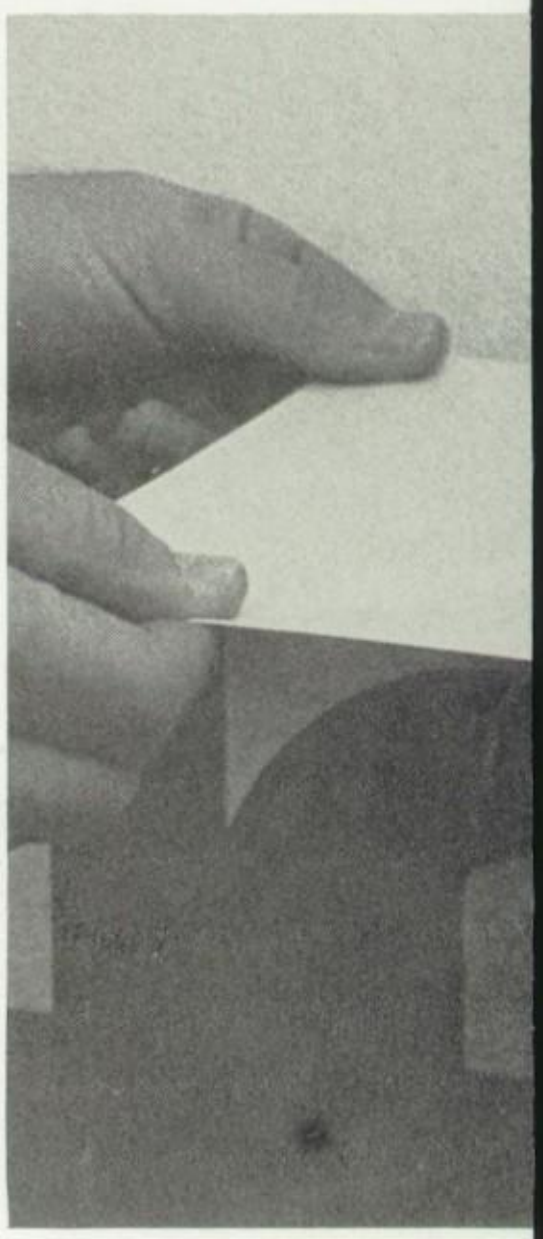


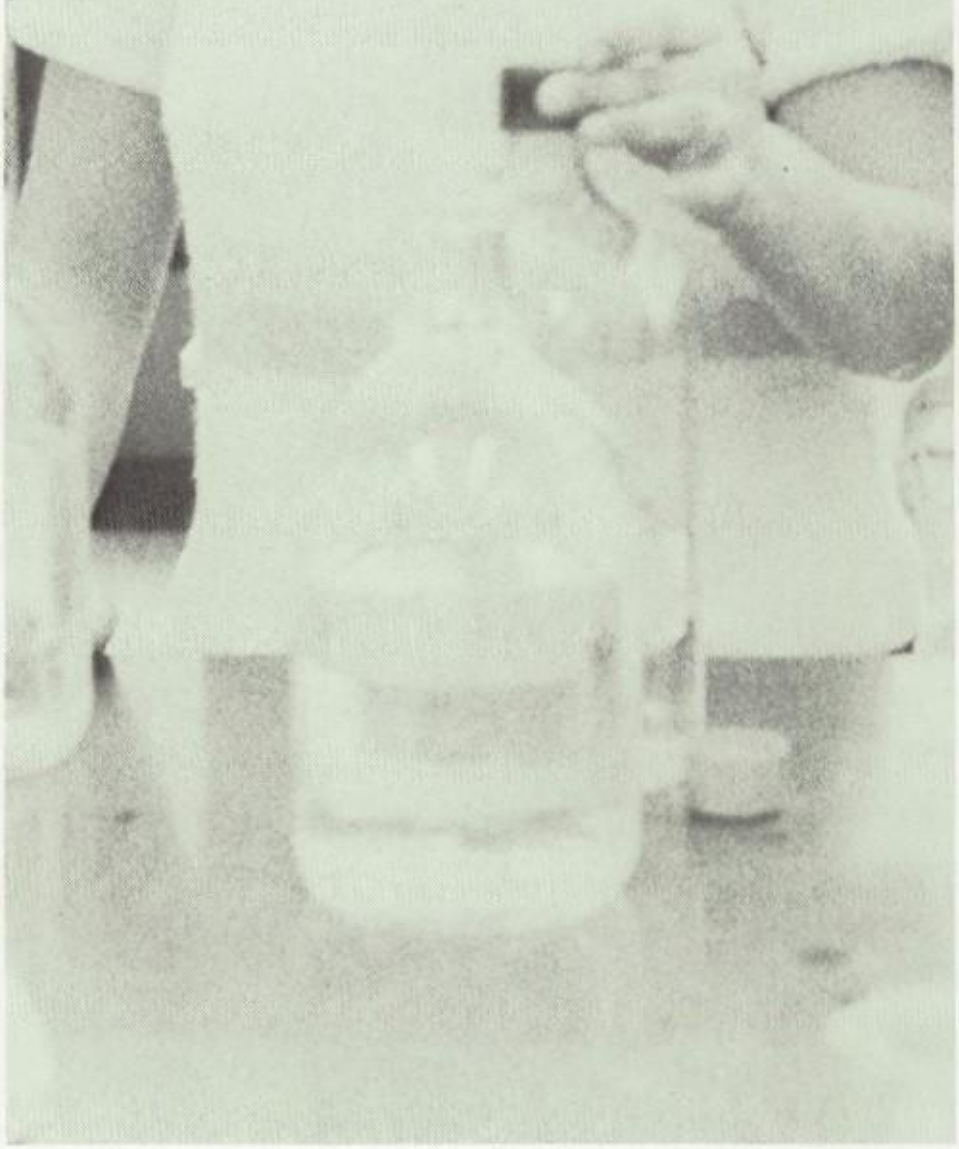
Dennis McDaniel works on an Electronics problem.



Science Students Explode Into Junior Einsteins

E=mc2 + Maddux + Main + Serl + Smith + Whan = Science. Dissecting, Chemical formulas, and a world of experiments expand the mind into the world of Chemistry, Biology, Physics, Earth Science and Physical Science. CSHS science department, through the leadership of a well qualified staff, expanded the minds of many students seeking the world of Einstein, Madame Currie, Sir Issac Newton, and Timothy Leary, not knowing the endless limits which their minds may develop.





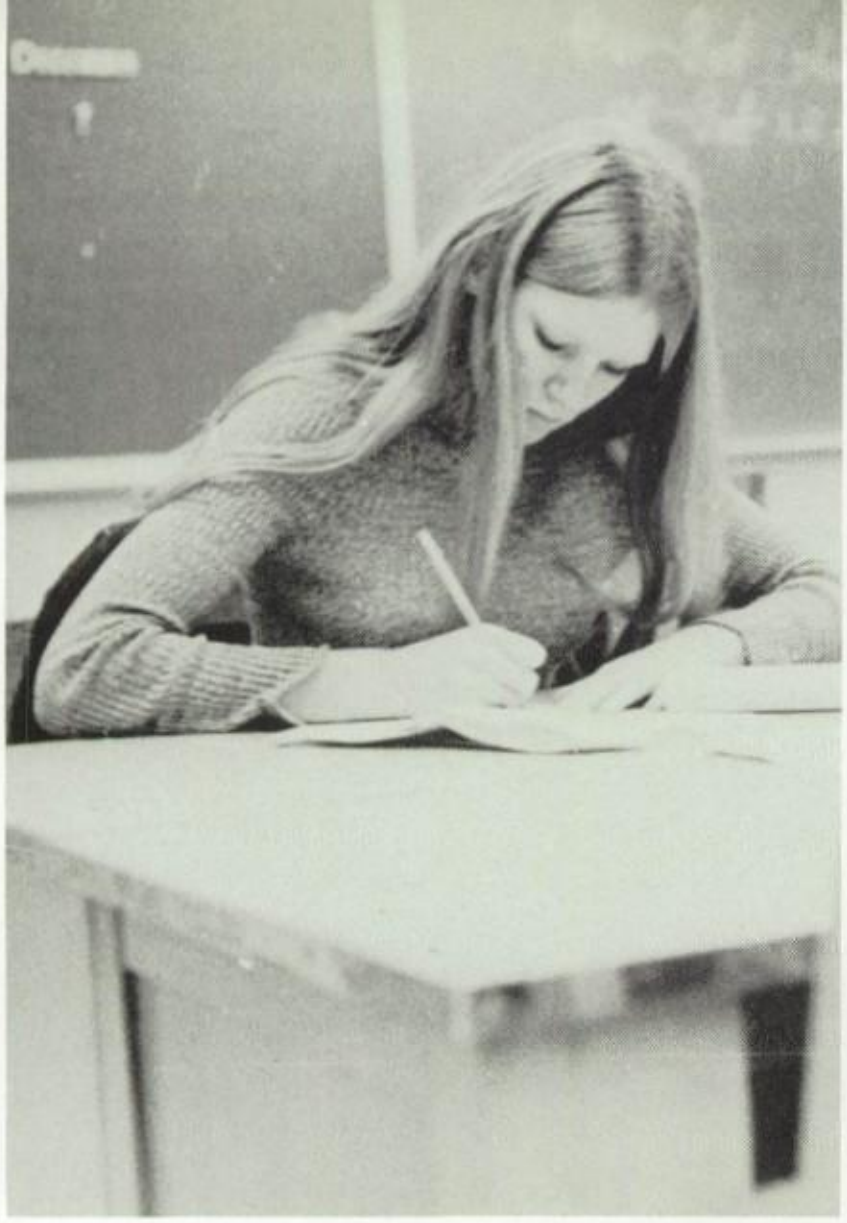
Old Math Teachers Never Die . . .

Chuck Shelton uses the source of information in the next row to answer his problem.

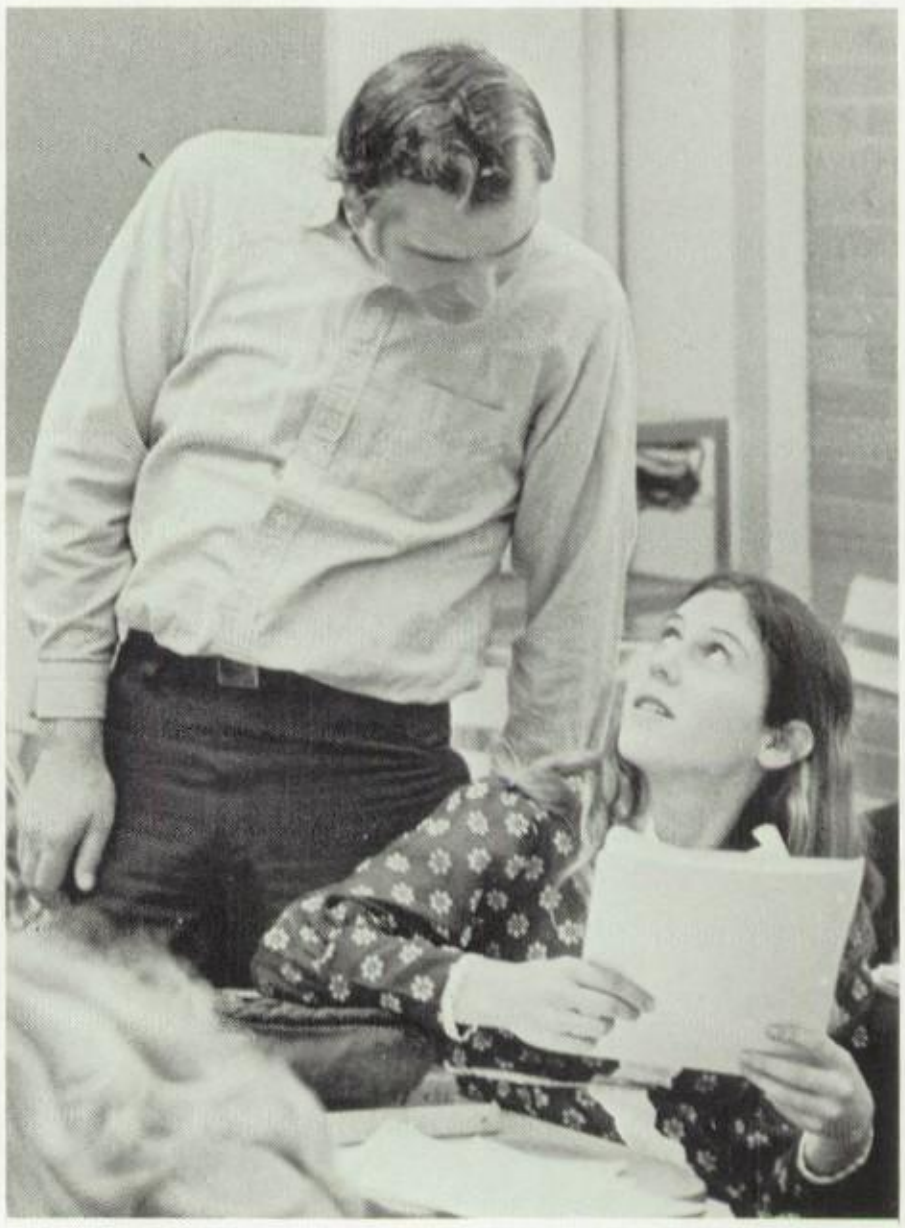
IF GExOM-ET+RY- Geometry, then so what? asks Mrs. Reyhner.

When it comes to Math at this school, the department is well equipped. There are classes ranging from consumer math, to Data Processing 1 and 2. The teachers are all very friendly and helpfu. At Chico High when it comes to math, they come up with a "grand total" of everything.

They Just Reduce To The Lowest Terms



Math is a very stimulating subject for Brenda.



Chris Taylor tries to convince Mr. Bader she's right.

Foreign Languages Promote Communication

Dave Schell and John Zicker rap with Mr. Long before German.

History Students Travel, Observe, and Learn

Mr. Yerman surveys the scene.

History is designed to take students back to the "good old days." Students learn how our great country began, and examines religions, education, and the great men who fought for the country. There are also Government classes which study how the U.S. is run by the laws of the Constitution. The classes take a trip once a year to Sacramento to see how the Assemblymen and Senators create a better California.

Mrs. Hollandsworth is ready to turn in grades AGAIN?

Blake Dawson and Rheyma Williams seem to know the answers on this one.

Rise Gates and Daniel Boone visit Senate chambers during a field trip to Sacramento.

Mr. Crowlie raps with students. . . . . What's the joke?

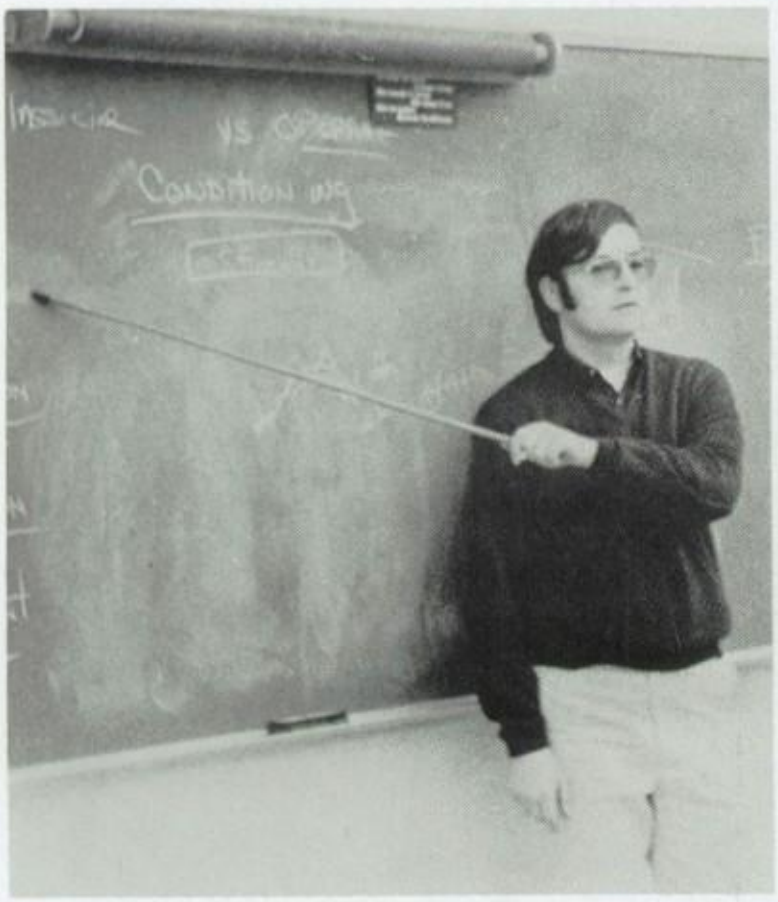
A deep philosophical moment in Mr. Richter's government class!

Students Solve Family Problems

Family Problems teaches students how to get along in any difficult family situation but this year the class went even further than that. The highlight of the year was the double mock wedding which was held in December at the First Christian Church. Staged like a real wedding, this one ran into some real problems. For one, the brides were still standing around in their unmentionables five minutes before the ceremony was to begin, waiting for their dresses to arrive.

The wedding was a formal one, with eight bridesmaids, and organist and two soloists.

Larry Jessee and Robin Rice mock a few tears at the mock wedding.



Mr. Miller points the fickle finger of fate.

Lisa and Dave "made it to the church on time."

Psychology Class Opens New Doors

The main purpose of a psychology class is to teach students how to get along not only with others, but with themselves. They learn what makes people act the way they do and how to handle situations that get tense and hard-to-handle.

Group counseling was one of the projects in psychology advised by Mrs. Simic. This group of people helped each other to help themselves through group encounter sessions.

At CSHS, psychology is not just Skinner and Freud. Body language and palm reading were other topics of interests. Students emerged from these sessions more aware and understanding of the world around them.

Mrs. Smiic guides a group-counseling session including students Deveny Minto and Robin Carnes.

Don't worry, Chris. We'll beat Red Bluff.

Panthers Vs. Trojans

By SKIP REAGER
(E-R Sports Writer)

ORLAND — There's no such animal as a "sure thing."

Locally, the best bet for a "can't miss" was "Chico over Orland and you name the score" but what was supposed to be a picnic for the Panthers turned into a "Tragedy at Troy."

The Trojans took advantage of atrocious Panther errors and flipped the would-be suicide mission into a brilliant show of courage, determination and a stunning 15-7 victory.

Three times quarterback Mark McKinnon tried to unload the football to a teammate with pitchouts after being hit and three times his errant tosses were pounced on by alert Orland defenders.

The Panthers kicked off but on Orland's seventh play from scrimmage McKinnon intercepted a John Erickson pass and returned it 15 yards to the Orland 45.

On Chico's first play from scrimmage McKinnon Executed the option perfectly pitching to Vance McHenry at the last possible instant and Vance was off on a 41-yard gallop. He was hauled down at the four-yard line. Two plays later burley Chris Slocomb lumbered over from the two and Gregg Gaylord's conversion kick made the score 7 0 with less than four minutes gone.

Running Attack Pushes Panthers Over RB 14-6

By SKIP REAGER (Enterprise-Record Sports Writer)

Junior Vance McHenry got the call on the third play of the game after he and quarterback Mark McKinnon advanced to ball to the Spartan 46.

Vance took off around the right side of the line then cut back toward the middle of the field and broke into the open on the 46-yard scoring jaunt.

Red Bluff, with hard-running Chuck Tandy handling a bulk of the running, moved to Chico's 16 where it faced a fourth-and-two situation. Tandy was stacked by Panther Guy Nagy after only a yard and the Panthers got the ball at their 15.

Chico lost nine yards in three plays. Punter Smith boomed a 51-yard punt to get the Panthers out of trouble — that's the way it looked, anyway.

However, Tandy broke loose on a 37-yard gallop on Red Bluff's first play and that moved the ball to the Panther 20. On the next maneuver Bloxham hit Savercool at the CHS one and the 150-pounder squired into paydirt with 9:11 remaining before intermission. Bloxham, usually a deadly place-kicker, missed the PAT.

The Panthers, still sticking to the ground attack, came right back. This time McKinnon did most of the work. The 60-yard drive actually covered 65 yards because of a procedure call on first down. The big play was McKinnon's 23-yard run on third-and-eight at the CHS 42.

It was third-and-five at the 18 when McKinnon kept and circled right end. He pulled free at the line of scrimmage then ran into another would-be tackler at the 10 but he spun away there and scored standing up. John Mc. again converted and CHS led 14-6 with 5:40 remaining in the first half.

Panthers Lose Heartfelt Battle 28-27

By TED BLOFSKY
(Enterprise-Record Sports Editor)

Pleasant Valley High School's Vikings have their first football victory over cross-town rival Chico High and more than 6,000 fans have no fingernails.

That's what transpired at University Stadium last night in Almond Bowl II. The Vikings outlasted the Panthers 28-27 in one of the finest high school grid encounters ever witnessed here.

Even Cecil B. DeMille with his cast of thousands would have had trouble putting together an extravaganza to match this one.

There were moments of joy for both teams but obviously much more for the Vikings because of the one-point differential.

There were moments of adversity — for both teams. There was tragedy — for both teams. And, there was a never-say-die attitude that prevailed throughout — for both teams.

Despite the 55 points put on the scoreboard there also was defense. Hitting is the name of the game and that's the way this one was played. Most of the game's yardage came on big plays and there were plenty of those to keep the huge crowd in continous excitement.

After being dominated throughout the third quarter by Pleasant Valley's ball control offense Chico broke loose in the fourth quarter and nearly pulled it out.

Not until officials noted John McHenry had touched his knee before completing a two-point conversion pass attempt did the Vikings get their win. Then, Pleasant Valley did what it had to, keep the ball for the final 2:48.

Most productions are better if they are watched from beginning to end. That's the way this one should be reviewed.

Pleasant Valley got the ball at midfield after the game-opening kickoff and gained nine yards in three plays. Coach Steve Dodson ordered a punt and Mike Randolph's boot was downed at the Panther one.

It was second and three at the eight when John McHenry faded. He hit Mark McKinnon at the 20 and McKinnon took off, outlegging Vike defenders on an apparent 92-yard scoring play. However, the Panthers were penalized for illegal procedure.

Finally we get to keep one.

Varsity Basketball Has "Short" Season

John Williams shoots for two.

If there's one thing Jerry's good at, it's fouling!

Being the shortest team in the Eastern Athletic League had its downs, especially when they couldn't get up to the rebounds. But even with a record of 6-14 the team was still "Tall in spirit." How? They liked to win; so they went out on the court with the will to win and the philosophy that no one is unbeatable. And after losing game after game? They've learned life has its disappointments and that you just can't roll over and die—so they picked themselves up, dusted themselves off, psyched themselves up, and went back on court with THE philosophy...

How do they keep this up? Pride and Mr. Piercy. The team agrees that having a coach who is behind you 150% and who is willing to stand up to any and all referees helps tremendously. Pride also plays a part. "When we get behind by twenty points," one player remarked, "we won't give up because we're not going to get beaten by 30."

The players agree that their strongest points were hustle, desire to win—and guts. Another strong point was Mark McKinnon. Mark broke three records this year with a single game record of 34 points against Lassen, a single season record of 428 points, and wound up with 728 points for both his junior and senior years.

Mark McKinnon adds two more points to his record breaking score.

J.V. Team Ends Season With Perfect Record

(14 losses; 0 wins)

1973 was a tough season for the J.V. Basketball team. Coach Phil King says that despite the record, this year's team is one of the best he's ever coached. "The guys who stuck with it 'til the end have the finest attitudes I've ever come across." He also predicts that by their senior year they will be winning more games. So what can be said but good luck to every member of the J.V. team and thank you for not deserting us.

Wrestling is a sport that is fast growing in popularity. This year Chico Senior High had an outstanding wrestling team. Four wrestlers were sent to state where they took on the best wrestlers from state wide competition. The scoring system of wrestling is as follows: Two points for take downs, one point for escape, three points for a near fall, and six points for a pin.

The team is coached by Mr. Simpson and Mr. Main.

Booters Strive For Winning Goal

Because of lack of funds, soccer, which was started last year, is still not a recognized school sport. But this does not keep the soccer team from playing—and winning. Coached by CSU, Chico student Steve Kirkwold, the team continually improves. At press time, the "unrecognized" team boasted an undefeated record.

The Racquet Is Back!

Tennis has been having its problems — from the ground up. Last year it was decided that something had to be done about Chi-Hi's tennis courts. It seems as though the team was running up too much expense by losing too many tennis balls among the weeds which were growing on the courts. It was decided that the old courts would be ripped out and be replaced by new ones. However, before the courts could be finished, the rains came. The team is very enthusiastic about the new courts—but are also discouraged about the unfinished condition they are in now. The following comments were made by the team when asked what they thought of the courts' present condition:

Dexter Kahanamoku: "I've heard of clay courts but this is ridiculous."

Mike Langen: "I can't say it."

Mark Bobinger: "There's Mr. King—ask him."

Mr. King: "Are you trying to be funny? What courts?"

Tom Sours: &$!)%#!"

Pete Crandall: "I wish we had them."

Needless to say, all tennis matches this year will be played out of town.

Tom Sours raises a racquet.

Spikers Gain Ground

Mr. Sheley, like the rest of the coaches received a good report from his team. "Mr. Sheley can really make a team out of a bunch of 'Long Hairs'," said one runner. "He doesn't care what we look like—and he isn't mean. He just wants us to do a good job. He makes us run until we hurt so bad we can hardly walk—but we won't give up—he's that kind of a guy."

Boys go out for track because running around with the guys makes it all worthwhile. "Besides," said one team member, "running in itself is satisfying." "And," another added, "it feels so good when you get to stop."

There are many track events, so the guys can run in what they like best. For example, Clay Kangerga likes the hurdles because, "There is more involved than just running." Others like the relay because, "It takes four people to win, and you know that three other guys are counting on you, which is an incentive to do your best." Other people like pole vaulting because, "It feels great to go sailing through the air."

The track team, too, have high hopes of coming out as North Section Champs.

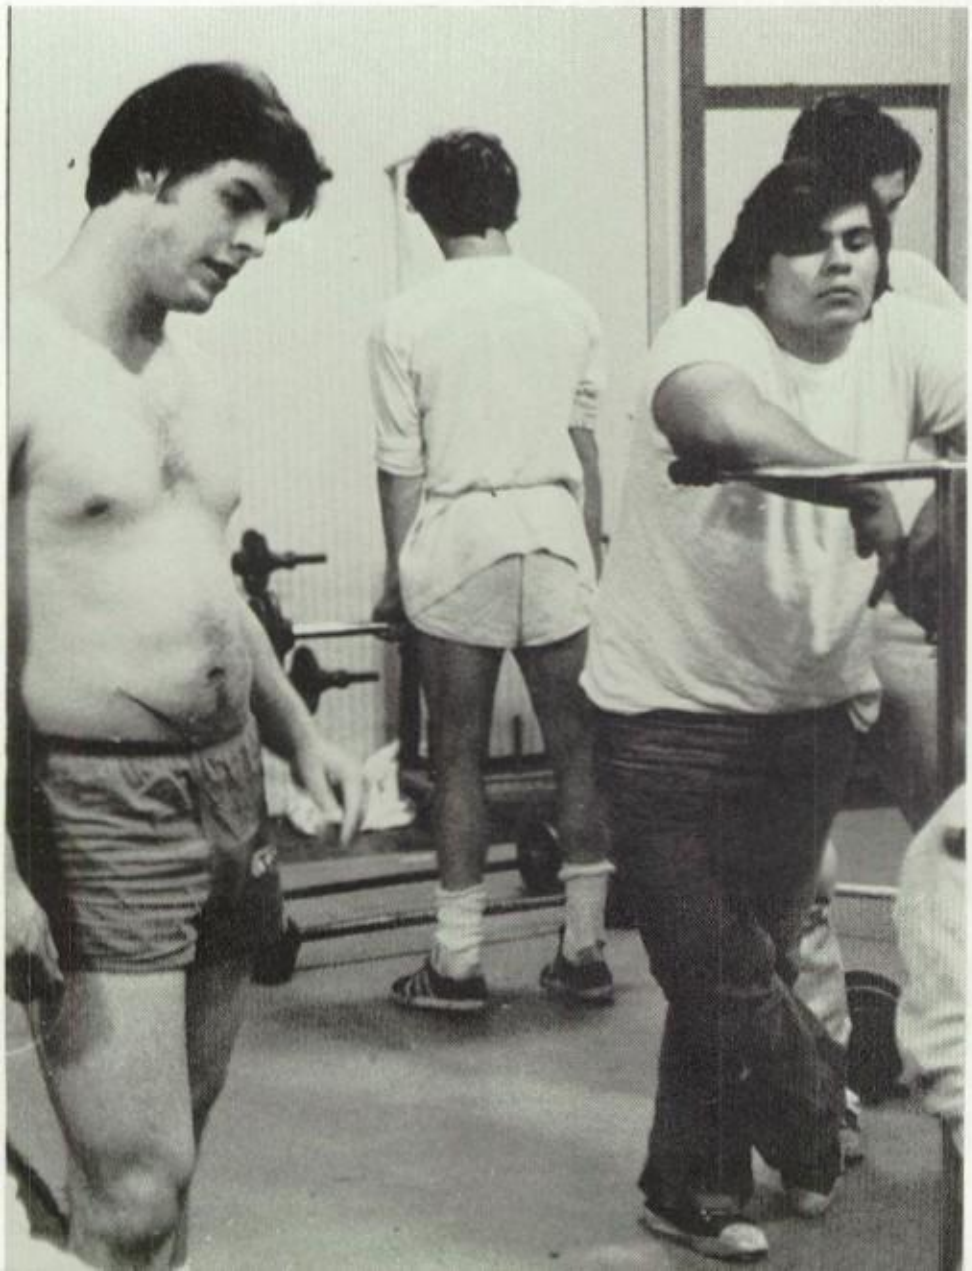
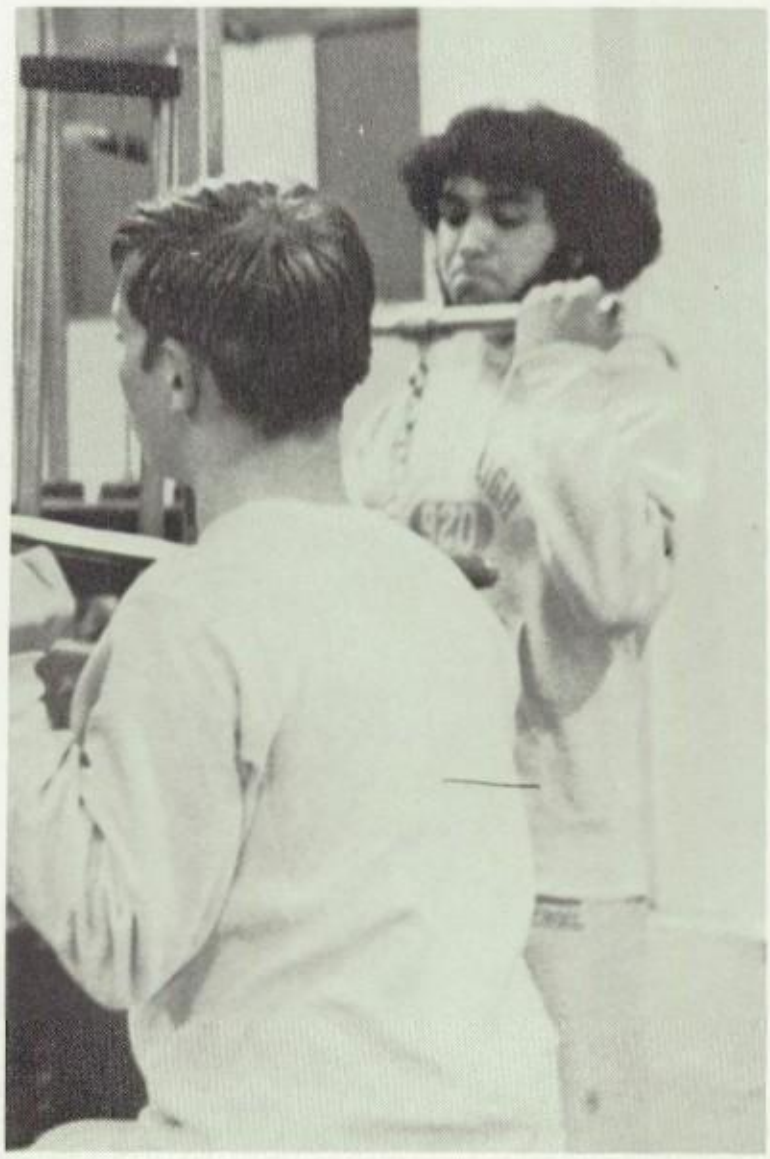
J.V. Tracksters Move Fast





Take Me Out To The

Jerry Hightower builds up his homerun potential.

Ever wondered why boys go out for baseball? This year there are three main reasons. They like going out and trying to hit something the other guy throws at them, and they like to watch the girls go by. The third reason? According to them— "We're good. Our new uniforms express a great team. (We're not egotistical— but we're good and we know it.) Our strong points are pitching, catching, first base, second base . . . We don't have a weak point."

Baseball, like tennis, is waiting for the rain to stop. Thus far, all games have been rained out. "It's a little depressing to practice so hard all week and then have the game called off because of rain," commented one player. Besides, they don't like practicing in the gym. The boys are eager to get on their new uniforms and go out and win. They are very optimistic. "Call undefeated a good year?" one team member grinned. Another more cautious player said, "We should win the league."

The varsity team is coached by Mr. McDonald, who is well liked by all of the guys. They think he's the greatest coach in California. "He works with us better than any other coach, and he knows how to handle us."

According to Jerry Hightower, the funniest thing that happens at baseball practice occurs when Mark McKinnon gets a hit. The rest of the team agrees that the funniest thing that ever happened was the time Jerry . . .

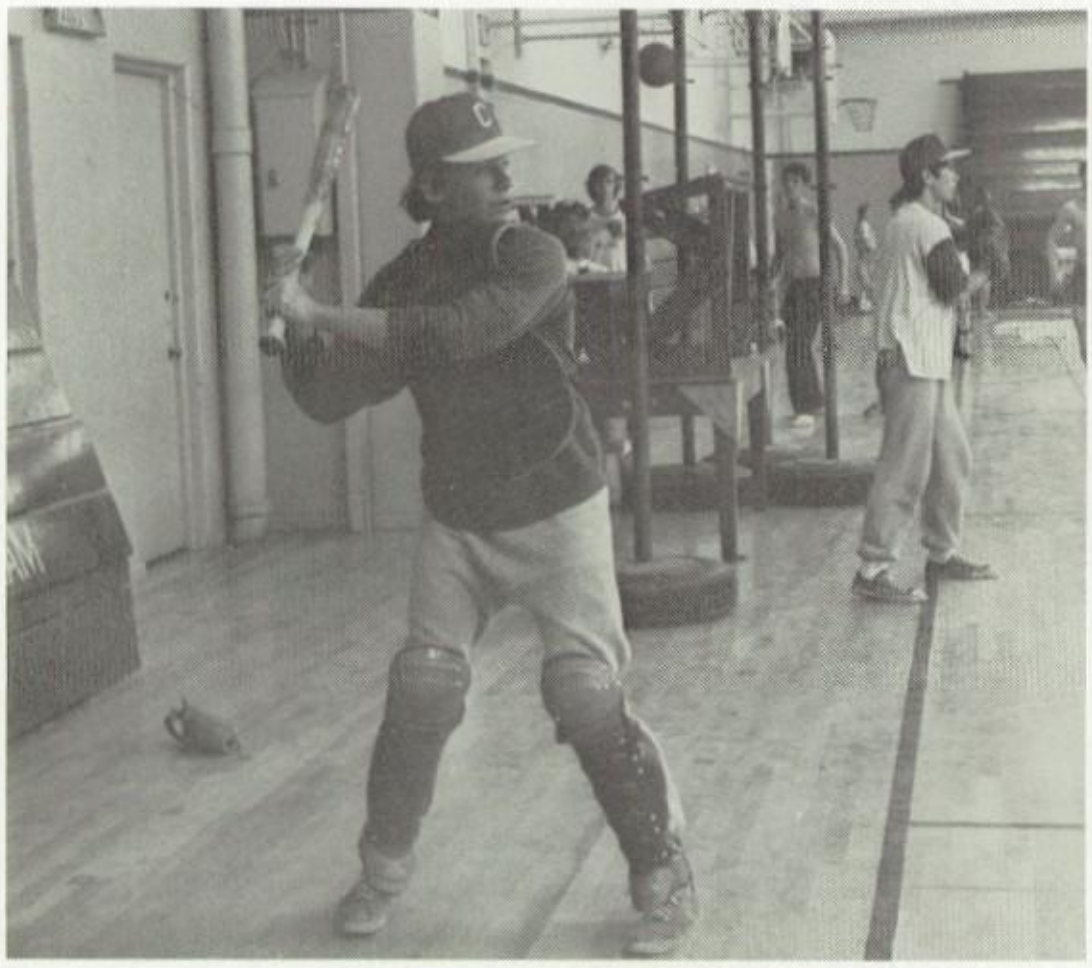
Catcher up!



A typical baseball practice starts the minute the boys take their first step from the locker room. From that point on they think of nothing except baseball. They run out to the diamond and warm up playing catch. When the coaches leisurely walk out, the boys run. (Around the track — not from the coaches.) After running comes exercises (their favorite is leg lifters). Next come batting and fielding practice which pretty much explains itself. After that they go over plays. Now comes the time the whole team waits for — Mr. Wasinger says "What about a few sprints?" (which is always met with the entire team's approval (?)). After running about 15 sprints the guys who come in first get to put the equipment away. The rest of the team goes ahead and runs two or three more sprints. Everyone on the team seems to agree that Mr. Miller is a good coach. Mr. Miller believes that the boys are a team. They play as a team and are disciplined as a team. If one person acts up, the team runs laps. The L'il Panthers, at this time seem to have a good combination of batting, fielding — and coaching. When the rain stops and games start, they'll have a chance to prove it.

Four years ago, because of lack of funds, swim team was dropped. But this year there was an expression of interest, and the team was revived. The credit for this goes primarily to Doug Immel.

This group is advised by Mrs. Copeland and coached by Dennis Good who also coaches the Chico Aqua Jets.

At this point, Chico High's swim team is a very promising group.

The Girls' Athletic Association, presided over by Joanne Granneman as president, offered four sports for Chico High girls. These were hockey, basketball, bowling and softball. With many girls participating, all sports were good examples of competitiveness and good sportsmanship.

Also in the G.A.A. program were six traveling teams. These were Varsity and J.V. hockey, basketball, and softball. These teams played many different schools in this area, including Pleasant Valley, Corning, Orland, Live Oak and Sutter.

Over all, G.A.A. seems to be a very active girls' sports organization with every girl in the school eligible to participate.
